Nuclear Treaty, Defense Missile System Entwined

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee appears to be steering toward prompt approval of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while at the same time laying more groundwork for a hardened line on antimissile defense.

Questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday made it clear that in the minds of critics of the controversial Sentinel antiballistic missile system that the defense project and the nuclear treaty are tightly entwined.

Rogers rejected the view that immediate deployment of the Sentinel system would run counter to U.S. pledges under the nonproliferation treaty.

The committee recessed today. But it was a foregone conclusion that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird would face the same criticism of the Sentinel when he goes before the committee Thursday to continue the administration's campaign for quick ratification of the treaty.

The Sentinel system would use nuclear-armed defensive missiles to destroy enemy missiles.

The Nixon administration halted work on the system two weeks ago after criticism in the Senate and from residents of areas being considered as Sentinel sites.

Laird has indicated work will resume after the Pentagon completes a review of the $5.5-billion system begun by the Johnson administration and approved in the last Congress.

Since there is little doubt the treaty will be ratified, committee members concentrated on how the United States will implement its terms, particularly Article VI, which says, in part: "Each of the parties to the treaty undertakes to pursue negotiations in good faith on effective measures relating to cessation of the nuclear arms race at an early date and to nuclear disarmament, and on a treaty on general and complete disarmament."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright asked Rogers whether, in view of that article, unilateral deployment of an ABM system by this country would not conflict with the treaty.

"No, I don't think so," said Rogers.

"I can't imagine," said Fulbright, "if this treaty were in full effect, that we can proceed with the ABM unilaterally... it would be utterly inconsistent."

Arabs Warned: Protect Israeli Airplane Routes

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel warned Arab nations and airlines today they must "take immediate measures to prevent further attacks on Israel's air routes." It claimed the moral right and ability to break up guerrilla raids at any place.

Transport Minister Moshe Carmel outlined the government's position before the Knesset, Israel's Parliament, in Jerusalem in the wake of the Arab attack on an El Al jetliner in Switzerland Tuesday.

"Israel's air routes are of the highest security priority," he said. "Israel has the full moral right and operational ability to take all necessary defensive measures at any place to break up the ring of terrorism on the airways and assure that Israel has completely free air traffic."

He singled out neighboring Lebanon and declared the government in Beirut had the duty to "uproot any nest of piracy from its territory."

Lebanon Based

Carmel's words received close attention throughout Israel. He was the first high-ranking government official to blame Lebanon for the Arab attack on an Israeli jet at Athens in December. Israeli commandos subsequently struck Beirut's International Airport and destroyed 13 Lebanese planes.

Carmel said the hijack of an El Al plane to Algiers last July and the attacks in Athens and Zurich all originated in Israel's view, from Lebanon. He pointed out the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine took full credit for the Swiss incident in a statement published in Beirut Tuesday.

"The responsibility for such acts is not only with the perpetrators, but with the Arab states in which these acts are being planned and where the terrorists are being equipped," Carmel said.

He warned of "complete chaos among the airways of the Middle East unless" the attacks are halted and added: "Safeguarding air safety is important not only to Israel but the Arabs and all the Arab airlines who want to keep their routes open. They should take immediate action."

Six Wounded

Carmel had hinted earlier that there might be retaliation for the machine gunning of El Al's Boeing 720 at Zurich's airport. Six persons aboard the plane were wounded. Of the four raiders, one was shot dead and the others, including a woman, were arrested.

The transport minister told the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv: "The Arab governments who are concerned with preserving the international airlinks of their countries would do well to hold back the saboteurs, and thus avoid the deterioration and destruction of the airways of the Middle East."

The U.S. State Department and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant condemned the Arab attack in Zurich, and Thant expressed hope there would be no reprisal. But leading Israeli newspapers promised retaliation.

Mayo Predicting Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal government will stay out of the red this year and next despite creeping costs and a shrinking surplus, according to Budget Director Robert P. Mayo.

Mayo testified Tuesday before the joint Senate-House Economic Committee, which continued its hearings today with testimony from Treasury Secretary David Kennedy.

Mayo told the committee that government outlays—especially the cost of interest on the federal debt—apparently will exceed the budget estimates made by former President Johnson for both fiscal 1969 and 1970.

This prompted speculation that the slender $2.4 billion surplus bequeathed by Johnson might skid into a deficit before the 1969 fiscal year ends June 30. Mayo told a reporter he did not intend to give such an impression.

"I think we'll be able to preserve a surplus, though not necessarily a very robust one," he said.

A deficit is always possible, he conceded, "but I do not expect it." He said the small surplus "could be either doubled or wiped out if the receipts estimate were off by as little as 1½ per cent." A slightly larger error could cancel out the $3.4 billion 1970 surplus as well, but Mayo indicated he expects to stay in black ink.

So far the committee, though dominated by Democrats, has treated the Nixon men gently, even cordially. There have been critical comments, however, on the number of former bankers among Nixon's appointees to economic policymaking positions.

Tax Breaks To Fight Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is mulling over the prospect of special tax breaks for both big business and the average housewife to enlist them as volunteers in the war on poverty.

One suggestion would let taxpayers deduct the value of time spent on charity work.

Another would permit corporations to write off part of their costs on projects to improve employment, education and housing in the slums.

The House Ways and Means Committee, which has buried proposals for special tax credits in the past, is expected to be cool toward these ideas too. Its chairman, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., is among the House's leading opponents of such tax credits.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said after a White House meeting Tuesday that President Nixon plans a special message to Congress on tax incentives to encourage efforts to fight poverty.

Nixon was already sending Congress today a message to spell out a major reshaping of the Office of Economic Opportunity, shifting two of the biggest anti-poverty programs—Head Start and Jobs Corps—to different agencies.

One source said the message included mention of tax breaks to bring more businesses and jobs to the slums.

Kennedy is the former board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and several of his aides were banking officials.

All the administration witnesses so far supported extension of the 10 per cent surtax beyond its scheduled June 30 expiration date, though President Nixon—who made campaign speeches calling for its elimination or reduction—has not declared an official position.

Mayo testified flatly that it is "our administration's current position" to support the extension, and hinted that he would like to see Congress act promptly.

California Sues For Oil Damage

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — California is suing four oil firms and the federal government for $1.3 billion on charges that negligence caused the giant ocean oil slick that damaged beaches and killed sealife.

A $500 million claim against the Department of Interior was filed personally Tuesday by Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy California attorney general.

O'Brien said an $800 million damage suit would be filed today against Union Oil Co., operator of the ruptured offshore well, and Texaco, Inc., Mobil Oil Co. and Gulf Oil Corp. Union's partners in the federal drilling lease.

The city and county of Santa Barbara and the city of Carpinteria join in the action, O'Brien said. The claim and the suit, he added, ask payment for damage to fish and wildlife and beach cleanup plus general damages including damage to tourist potential.

Susan Hayward Leaves 'Mame'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Strained vocal cords have forced movie actress Susan Hayward to give up her first singing part after 70 performances in the title role of "Mame."

The stage musical opened at Caesar's Palace last Christmas and had four months to run.

Miss Hayward said her doctors told her only rest would heal her throat. "It breaks my heart to leave," the 48-year-old actress whispered to newsmen Tuesday.

Her understudy, Betty McGuire, will take over as Mame.

Troopers Retire

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police have announced the Feb. 28 retirement of Capt. Jack P. Foster, commanding officer of the East Lansing operations division, and Lt. Harold W. Simmons, assistant commander of the headquarters civil defense division.

Each served more than 25 years with the department.

Rumored Nixon Invited To Russ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has refused to knock down speculation that President Nixon already has been invited to visit the Soviet Union.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was asked Tuesday whether Nixon had been invited to meet with Soviet leaders and said he didn't have anything to report on the subject.

Reminded that was not a denial, Ziegler said:

"I wouldn't discuss anything in relation to this speculation." Talk about an invitation escalated following Nixon's hour-long conference Monday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin—a session that lasted twice as long as scheduled.

In his most recent news conference, Nixon scoffed at "instant summits" but indicated he would be glad to talk with Soviet leaders later after full advance preparations.

There was no indication whether an invitation—if one was made—was specific or couched in vague diplomatic terms that simply left the matter open.

Ziegler flatly ruled out the possibility Nixon would add Moscow to the itinerary of his five-nation Western European trip that starts Sunday.

No American president has ever visited the Soviet Union. An invitation to Dwight D. Eisenhower was canceled in 1960 after the U2 spy plane was shot down over Russia.

Ammonia Gas Fatal To Eight

CRETE, Neb. (AP) — Residents began returning to their homes today after fleeing from deadly ammonia gas that spread like fog from a tank car in a train derailment.

Eight persons died, three of them unidentified transients aboard the train who were found in the tangled wreckage, railroad officials said.

Nineteen cars of a 94-car Denver-to-Chicago Burlington freight train left the rails Tuesday at the west edge of this community of 3,500.

The derailed cars struck three 40,000-gallon tank cars of anhydrous ammonia, rupturing one of them with a shattering explosion that hurled chunks of twisted steel into yards on each side of the right-of-way.

The ammonia spread like a deadly ground fog.

Gambler Flight Lost In Desert

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — Ground crews in jeeps and brush buggies searched into the night for the "gamblers special" plane with 35 persons aboard that disappeared Tuesday over rugged high desert country.

They found nothing.

The Civil Air Patrol, unable to join the search because of drizzle and low clouds, said it would have planes in the air as soon as the weather cleared.

The DC3 plane carrying 32 passengers and 3 crewmen vanished near the California-Nevada border 200 miles northeast of Los Angeles. It was on a pre-dawn flight from Hawthorne to two southern California cities, Burbank and Long Beach.

Jerry Thornburg, deputy commander of the Walker Lake Civil Air Patrol Squadron, said 40 of his group scoured the country from Hawthorne to Mount Montgomery, 40 miles to the southeast.

The airline has refused to disclose the names of passengers.

An employee of the airline said the crew consisted of pilot Fred Hall, copilot Ray Haner of Long Beach and a stewardess.

The plane was on the return leg of a junket that had brought people from Burbank and Long Beach to Hawthorne Monday evening for a night in the town's gambling casino.

The plane was operated by Mineral County Airlines which does business as Hawthorne Nevada Airlines and specializes in gambling flights.

Bargain rate flights from California to Nevada are a promotional device often used by the casinos.

The country south and west of Hawthorne, where the search is centered, is barren desert and ragged valleys that end abruptly at the towering east rampart of the Sierra.

Marking the landscape are ghost towns and roads fallen into disuse since the booming gold and silver era of the 1870s.

'Gold Cup' Race Weekend Declared In Delta County

The Delta County Board of Supervisors has proclaimed Feb. 21-22-23 as International Gold Cup weekend in Delta County.

Action was taken at a meeting of the board Tuesday night in Garden in recognition of the International Gold Cup snowmobile race program scheduled in Gladstone.

Members of the race committee are planning for an entry of up to 400 contestants.

Thomas Aas, general chairman, said today that "no matter what the weather the program will go on. The trails are well marked with fluorescent flags and all will be in readiness."

"Plans for all events have been sanctioned by the Michigan Snowmobile Association and John Fulbright of Detroit and Jim Brownson of Engadine will be race directors," Aas added.

A half-mile oval course has been plowed north of the Gladstone Yacht Club and a 30-mile cross country course has been marked. In addition, temporary buildings and tents have been erected on the Yacht Club grounds.

The Grand Champion trophy, a $1,000 grand prize, a sportsmanship trophy, other trophies and prize money will be awarded after the last race Sunday afternoon.

The International Gold Cup snowmobile race has been named as a result of the donation of a four-foot gold cup trophy by Mrs. Joseph Bergeron in memory of her late husband. The trophy is on permanent display at the yacht club and the name of the grand champion will be inscribed on it.

The grand champion trophy to be awarded to the champion has been donated by Heynssens Carpet & Furniture, Inc., and the sportsmanship trophy was donated by WDBC radio.

Queen for the weekend will be crowned by Jack Drees, national radio sportscaster, at a noon luncheon Saturday at the James T. Jones school.

Parades through Gladstone are scheduled both Friday and Saturday beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Saturday's parade will be led by the Gold Cup Queen and Drees.

Other "royal" participants in both parades will be "Royal Prince" Albert (Butch) Fleck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleck, 1406 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone, and "Royal Princess" Caroline Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Scott of Flat Rock.

Finalists in the queen's contest are Suzi Bauman, Laurie Kaufman, Ruth Martin, Kristen Olson and Debbie Nolan.

Plan To Raise Funds To Pay For 4-H Trips

Delta County 4-H Club Teen Leaders met at the Rapid River High School on Feb. 18, with the program theme "Working Today for a New Tomorrow." Dues of 50 cents will be collected at the next meeting.

The yearly program was accepted and a committee was appointed to discuss the payment of $1 for trips to the state show and Camp Shaw. Chris Shojist is chairman and members are Danette Peterson, Jane Ann LaCrosse, Carolyn Nelson and Dan and Clint Safford.

A dance is planned for Friday, March 14, at the Wells Central School, to assist in raising funds. Dancing will be from 8 to 11, school dress will be worn, and the price is $1.

Board Hears Road Protests

By DAVE ANDREWS

GARDEN — A verbal barrage of protest and written petitions directed at the Delta County Road Commission and William Karas, engineer-superintendent, boiled down to one basic question and answer Tuesday night at a meeting of the Delta County Board of Supervisors at the Garden Community Building.

Q — Why aren't township roads improved or better maintained?

A — Because there isn't any money in most townships to finance the projects.

The question was raised by a group of about 50 eastern Delta County residents and answered by Karas and Wesley Hanson, chairman of the road commission.

With the question were several petitions asking improvements on several east Delta roads and one signed by 67 residents of Nahma Township demanding removal of Karas from his position as administrative head of the road commission.

Require 50-50 Funds

Frank Stupak, chairman of the board of supervisors, said that the petition asking Karas' removal was prepared before explanations on township road problems offered at the meeting. He said, however, it would be turned over to the Road Commission.

A resident of Garden Township said an attempt to circulate a similar petition in that area was apparently unsuccessful.

Karas has held his present job since 1948.

In regard to local road improvements and maintenance, Karas explained that state law requires that townships match road commission funds on a 50-50 basis.

If the road commission makes improvements work without the matching funds from the township, he said, the state could suspend all gas and weight tax money to the county for up to a one-year period. About $1 million.

"The Road Commission," he emphasized, "isn't willing to take that chance."

Finances Explained

If the townships get their 50 per cent matching money for specific road improvement projects,

Karas said, the project would be tackled "just as soon as we can get at it." He said the county generally has available sufficient funds to match local money to proceed with projects.

Delta County has a total of 515 miles of local roads and 340 miles of primary roads in the county system, Karas explained. Of state money received, 23 per cent is earmarked by law for local roads and 77 per cent is ticketed for primary county roads.

The Road Commission, he said, does not get a single cent from property taxes paid in the county. An annual appropriation of $40,000 from the Board of Supervisors comes from non-tax revenues in the form of fees and charges collected by county offices for services provided.

Little Money Spent

Karas said the problem in Garden Township is that in recent years the township has not appropriated much money ($300 to $400 annually) for road improvements. About all that finances, he said, is a seal coat to control dust in summer months, but it does nothing to improve the actual road surface.

Supervisor Frank Gray of Garden said that $2,800 has been budgeted this year.

Because of the sparse population of Garden and Nahma Townships, the revenue available to the township through per capita sales tax rebates is limited and is not sufficient to finance major road improvement projects.

One mile of blacktop, Karas said, would cost $11,000. With a population of about 390 people, Garden township annually would receive only about $2,730 on a $7 per capita rebate basis.

Members of the Board of Supervisors indicated that one approach to solving the problem of local roads in rural areas would be to raise money through a special millage election, either on a local or county-wide basis.

Elections Fall

Stupak pointed out, however, that the county board has been reluctant to put millage questions before the people because of repeated defeats in the past. Board members said that the last county millage proposal — a request to finance a bridge replacement program in rural areas — was approved by the majority of voters in the City of Escanaba but defeated in the county, largely because of the "No" votes from residents of the areas the bridges would have assisted. Road proposals also have been beaten.

Supervisors pointed out that the problems involved in financing local road improvements are not unique to Garden and Nahma Townships. Almost all townships in the county except Wells have problems.

Wells Township, Karas explained, has been able to finance extensive work on its road system because its population is large enough for sales tax rebates to pay for construction.

The petitions presented asked that the county take over about seven miles of U.S. Forest Service Road 2224 and Institute snow removal; improve 27 miles of County Rd. 483 from U.S. 2 to Fairport; and to make necessary repairs on County Rds. N-7 and N-8 in Garden Township.

To Answer Petitioners

A resident of Bay de Noc Township asked that repairs be made on County Rd. 511 on the Stonington Peninsula.

Petitioners were informed that the questions raised in the petitions would be answered and that petitions would be forwarded to the Road Commission.

Discussions at the meeting were tape recorded by the Board of Supervisors. The meeting was the first in recent years held outside of the Delta County Courthouse and members of the board indicated that other meetings would be scheduled in the future in other areas of the county.

Arabs Warned: Protect Israeli Airplane Routes

Lernerhav declared: "The sabotage of airways cannot be one-sided. The Israeli security authorities must reach the proper conclusions with regard to this extension of Arab terror."

Hayom, published by the right-wing Gahal party, said Israel "must react because her neighbors' understand no other language."

The guerrillas, three men and a woman, opened up on the El Al Boeing 720 from behind a snowbank Tuesday night as it taxied down a runway at Zurich's Kloten airport to take off for Tel Aviv. Six of the 27 persons aboard, most of them Israelis, were wounded.

Hit By Bullets

The most seriously injured were Israeli pilot Yoram Pores, hit in the abdomen by three bullets. He was reported out of danger following an emergency operation at the Zurich Cantonal Hospital.

Zurich police said an Israeli security agent jumped from the plane through an emergency hatch after the first bursts of fire and killed one of the attackers with a shot through the head from his automatic pistol.

Swiss firemen raced to the scene and arrested the other three Arabs. They said they had to overpower the Israeli agent "otherwise he would have killed the others as well."

Extradition

The Israeli and the three Arabs were in custody today and were to appear before an examining magistrate. It was assumed the Israeli agent would plead self-defense.

Briefly Told

Larceny of a windshield from a 1936 model dump truck owned by Charles DeGrand, 620 S. 18th St., is under investigation by State Police. Troopers said the truck was parked on DeGrand's property along the Old State Rd.

A car driven by Philip Milligan Sr., 322 S. 18th St., struck and killed a deer on U. S. 2 and 41 at the Escanaba River bridge about 8 a. m. Tuesday. State Police reported. Milligan was not injured.

Deadline Nears On Auto Plates

The deadline for the purchase of 1969 Michigan vehicle license plates is Friday, Feb. 28, Claude Tobin, branch manager, Department of State, today reminded auto owners.

"We have about 2,800 passenger car plates to sell within the next seven and one-half days, plus approximately 400 commercial plates — and this all adds up to a rush," said Tobin.

Tobin asked the individual who has purchased 1969 U.F. 5985 plate come to the Escanaba office, so that the record of purchase can be completed.

The hours at the Escanaba office, located in the Greyhound Bus Station in the 800 block, Ludington St., are from 8 to 5 weekdays, and from 8 to 12 noon on Saturdays.

At Gladstone the hours of the Department of State branch office in DeRoek's Sporting Goods Store are from 8:30 to 5:30 and on Saturdays from 8:30 to 5 p. m.

Last year in Delta County a total of 13,639 passenger plates, 3,064 commercial, 2,335 trailer and 399 motorcycle plates were sold. The branch offices also handle the licensing of snowmobiles.

Rapid River

Lenten mid-week services will begin at Calvary Lutheran Church, Rapid River, today Ash Wednesday, at 8 o'clock with a Holy Communion Service. The Pastor will preach on the theme, "Christ Near Jerusalem." On Feb. 26 the congregation will join with First Lutheran Church, Gladstone for a mid-week service at which time Dr. Arthur Arnold, Chicago, Lutheran School of Theology will bring the message.

A Lenten mid-week service will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Stonington on Thursday, Feb. 20 at 8 o'clock.

'Gold Cup' Race Weekend Declared In Delta County

The Delta County Board of Supervisors has proclaimed Feb. 21-22-23 as International Gold Cup weekend in Delta County.

Action was taken at a meeting of the board Tuesday night in Garden in recognition of the International Gold Cup snowmobile race program scheduled in Gladstone.

Members of the race committee are planning for an entry of up to 400 contestants.

Thomas Aas, general chairman, said today that "no matter what the weather the program will go on. The trails are well marked with fluorescent flags and all will be in readiness."

"Plans for all events have been sanctioned by the Michigan Snowmobile Association and John Fulbright of Detroit and Jim Brownson of Engadine will be race directors," Aas added.

A half-mile oval course has been plowed north of the Gladstone Yacht Club and a 30-mile cross country course has been marked. In addition, temporary buildings and tents have been erected on the Yacht Club grounds.

The Grand Champion trophy, a $1,000 grand prize, a sportsmanship trophy, other trophies and prize money will be awarded after the last race Sunday afternoon.

The International Gold Cup snowmobile race has been named as a result of the donation of a four-foot gold cup trophy by Mrs. Joseph Bergeron in memory of her late husband. The trophy is on permanent display at the yacht club and the name of the grand champion will be inscribed on it.

The grand champion trophy to be awarded to the champion has been donated by Heynssens Carpet & Furniture, Inc., and the sportsmanship trophy was donated by WDBC radio.

Queen for the weekend will be crowned by Jack Drees, national radio sportscaster, at a noon luncheon Saturday at the James T. Jones school.

Parades through Gladstone are scheduled both Friday and Saturday beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Saturday's parade will be led by the Gold Cup Queen and Drees.

Other "royal" participants in both parades will be "Royal Prince" Albert (Butch) Fleck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleck, 1406 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone, and "Royal Princess" Caroline Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Scott of Flat Rock.

Finalists in the queen's contest are Suzi Bauman, Laurie Kaufman, Ruth Martin, Kristen Olson and Debbie Nolan.

Plan To Raise Funds To Pay For 4-H Trips

Delta County 4-H Club Teen Leaders met at the Rapid River High School on Feb. 16, with the program theme "Working Today for a New Tomorrow." Dues of 50 cents will be collected at the next meeting.

The yearly program was accepted and a committee was appointed to discuss the payment of $1 for trips to the state show and Camp Shaw. Chris Sjoquist is chairman and members are Danette Peterson, Jane Ann LaCrosse, Carolyn Nelson and Dan and Klint Safford.

A dance is planned for Friday, March 14, at the Wells Central School, to assist in raising funds. Dancing will be from 8 to 11, school dress will be worn, and the price is $1.

Board Hears Road Protests

By DAVE ANDREWS

GARDEN — A verbal barrage of protest and written petitions directed at the Delta County Road Commission and William Karas, engineer-superintendent, boiled down to one basic question and answer Tuesday night at a meeting of the Delta County Board of Supervisors at the Garden Community Building.

Q — Why aren't township roads improved or better maintained?
A — Because there isn't any money in most townships to finance the projects.

The question was raised by a group of about 50 eastern Delta County residents and answered by Karas and Wesley Hanson, chairman of the road commission.

With the question were several petitions asking improvements on several east Delta roads and one signed by 67 residents of Nahma Township demanding removal of Karas from his position as administrative head of the road commission.

Require 50-50 Funds
Frank Stupak, chairman of the board of supervisors, said that the petition asking Karas' removal was prepared before explanations on township road problems offered at the meeting. He said, however, it would be turned over to the Road Commission.

A resident of Garden Township said an attempt to circulate a similar petition in that area was apparently unsuccessful.

Karas has held his present job since 1948.

In regard to local road improvements and maintenance, Karas explained that state law requires that townships match road commission funds on a 50-50 basis.

If the road commission makes improvements work without the matching funds from the township, he said, the state could suspend all gas and weight tax money to the county for up to a one-year period. About $1 million.

"The Road Commission," he emphasized, "isn't willing to take that chance."

Finances Explained
If the townships get their 50 per cent matching money for specific road improvement projects,

A car driven by Philip Milligan Sr., 322 S. 19th St., struck and killed a deer on U. S. 2 and 41 at the Escanaba River bridge about 8 a. m. Tuesday. State Police reported. Milligan was not injured.

The film, "Mercy Bridge to Biafra," depicting the airlift to starving people caught in the Nigerian civil war, will be shown on WNNM-TV, Northern Michigan University educational television, Monday, Feb. 24, at 6:15 p. m., and Tuesday, Feb. 25, at 10:30. The movie is produced by Catholic Relief Services, overseas aid arm of American Catholics.

William Meshigaud, 33, of Hannahville, was sentenced Monday by Judge Bernard Davidson to serve 90 days in the Delta County jail for driving away an automobile without intent to steal. The auto was owned by Tom McDonough of 1408 1st Ave. N., Escanaba, and Meshigaud was arrested on Jan. 26. Meshigaud's sentence began Monday after his appearance before Judge Davidson in Circuit Court at Marquette.

from non-tax revenues in the form of fees and charges collected by county offices for services provided.

Little Money Spent

Karas said the problem in Garden Township is that in recent years the township has not appropriated much money ($300 to $400 annually for road improvements. About all that finances, he said, is a seal coat to control dust in summer months, but it does nothing to improve the actual road surface.

Supervisor Frank Gray of Garden said that $2,800 has been budgeted this year.

Because of the sparse population of Garden and Nahma Townships, the revenue available to the township through per capita sales tax rebates is limited and is not sufficient to finance major road improvement projects.

One mile of blacktop, Karas said, would cost $11,000. With a population of about 390 people, Garden township annually would receive only about $2,730 on a $7 per capita rebate basis.

Members of the Board of Supervisors indicated that one approach to solving the problem of local roads in rural areas would be to raise money through a special millage election, either on a local or county-wide basis.

Elections Fail

Stupak pointed out, however, that the county board has been reluctant to put millage questions before the people because of repeated defeats in the past. Board members said that the last county millage proposal — a request to finance a bridge replacement program in rural areas — was approved by the majority of voters in the City of Escanaba but defeated in the county, largely because of the "No" votes from residents of the areas the bridges would have assisted. Road proposals also have been beaten.

Supervisors pointed out that the problems involved in financing local road improvements are not unique to Garden and Nahma Townships. Almost all townships in the county except Wells have problems. Wells Township, Karas explained, has been able to finance extensive work on its road system because its population is large enough for sales tax rebates to pay for construction.

House Committee To Investigate Campus Problems

LANSING (AP)—Bypassing a membership vote, the sponsor of a resolution creating a House committee to study campus problems Tuesday announced that the task will be handled by a special subcommittee.

Rep. Vincent Pettipren, D-Westland chairman of the House Committee on Colleges and Universities, joined in the announcement by Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, said the group would delve into the "positive" aspects of campus activities.

Pettipren added that Ryan has said the study group will have "not less than $10,000 to work with."

"I think we would have had some trouble getting the resolution passed," Pettipren said. "Some members would have wanted the word 'investigation' in there or provisions for closed committee meetings. And we don't want that."

A Senate committee studying campus disorder has announced that its initial hearings would be closed to protect the confidence of persons who have indictated a desire to testify. Chairman of that group is Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy.

"We will not only conduct studies on such areas as student unrest, student disturbances and obscenities in student newspapers," Pettipren said of the subcommittee, "but we will determine means by which the Legislature can be of assistance to higher education in all of its many facets in Michigan."

"After a thorough study, we may then wish to propose relevant legislation," he added.

Pettipren said main purpose of the subcommittee will be to find out what steps are being taken to upgrade the prestige of higher education and where responsibility and authority lie.

"We feel that we are taking a positive approach in this study," he said, "rather than a negative one. We hope to review all factors in their proper perspective. We owe it to the parents and to the students who are trying to do a good job."

The committee plans public hearings at Marquette for Northern Michigan University, Michigan Tech and Lake Superior State College; one at another site for Oakland, the University of Michigan, Eastern and two others, both probably at Lansing, to cover Ferris, Central, Saginaw Valley, Michigan State Western and Grand Valley.

Pettipren said times and places for the hearings would be announced later.

"We hope in these series of meetings to be able to develop an open dialogue with students, faculty and administrators," he said. "We want to open everyone's lines of communication."

The subcommittee will include Pettipren and four other members of the colleges and universities committee: Republican Reps. Raymond Smit of Ann Arbor and Charles Varnum of Manistique, and Democratic Reps. Daisy Elliott and Jackie Vaughn, both of Detroit.

DON SMITH, whose legs have been paralyzed by polio, holds up his hands in what could only be termed a victory salute after tooling his wheel chair over 26 miles in the Tucson Admission's Day Marathon. Smith finished 110th in the 170-man field in a time of five hours, 32 minutes. (AP Wirephoto)

Central Michigan University Lists Honor Students

MT. PLEASANT—A total of 1,343 students have been named to the scholastic honors list for the 1969 fall semester at Central Michigan University, while 93 students have been cited for achieving straight "A" averages for the semester.

To be eligible for the scholastic honors list, a student must have a cumulative average of "B" or better for his entire college career. The straight "A" list is based on fall semester grades only.

B or Better:

Streisand Is Highest Paid

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Singer Barbra Streisand's just-signed contract with the Las Vegas, Nev., International Hotel will make her the highest-paid performer in night club history, says Alex Shooofey, the hotel's executive vice president.

Neither Shooofey nor Miss Streisand would reveal what the salary will be. The hotel, opening later this year, will have a 2,000-seat main auditorium. Miss Streisand signed Monday for one engagement a year for five years.

Until now Frank Sinatra has been estimated to draw the biggest night club pay—$100,000 a week for four weeks in Las Vegas.

"We hope in these series of meetings to be able to develop an open dialogue with students, faculty and administrators," he said. "We want to open everyone's lines of communication."

Library Index Cards Destroyed

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Thousands of index cards worth "many thousands of dollars" were taken secretly from the University of Illinois library over the weekend and destroyed, a university spokesman said Monday night.

While the university declined to give an official estimate of damage beyond the term "many thousands of dollars," one source put the cost of the vandalism at $55,000.

Robert Evans, top public information officer said that the vandalism was a "crippling blow" and that it would take several years to undo the damage.

"Some of this information is not duplicated anywhere," he said. "Some books will be literally lost in the library." The university's library, with 3.4 million volumes, is the largest state university library in the nation.

House Committee To Investigate Campus Problems

LANSING (AP) — Bypassing a membership vote, the sponsor of a resolution creating a House committee to study campus problems Tuesday announced that the task will be handled by a special subcommittee.

Rep. Vincent Pettipren, D-Westland chairman of the House Committee on Colleges and Universities, joined in the announcement by Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, said the group would delve into the "positive" aspects of campus activities.

Pettipren added that Ryan has said the study group will have "not less than $10,000 to work with."

"I think we would have had some trouble getting the resolution passed," Pettipren said. "Some members would have wanted the word 'investigation' in there or provisions for closed committee meetings. And we don't want that."

A Senate committee studying campus disorder has announced that its initial hearings would be closed to protect the confidence of persons who have indictated a desire to testify. Chairman of that group is Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy.

"We will not only conduct studies on such areas as student unrest, student disturbances and obscenities in student newspapers," Pettipren said of the subcommittee, "but we will determine means by which the Legislature can be of assistance to higher education in all of its many facets in Michigan."

"After a thorough study, we may then wish to propose relevant legislation," he added.

Pettipren said main purpose of the subcommittee will be to find out what steps are being taken to upgrade the prestige of higher education and where responsibility and authority lie.

"We feel that we are taking a positive approach in this study," he said, "rather than a negative one. We hope to review all factors in their proper perspective. We owe it to the parents and to the students who are trying to do a good job."

The committee plans public hearings at Marquette for Northern Michigan University, Michigan Tech and Lake Superior State College; one at another site for Oakland, the University of Michigan, Eastern and two others, both probably at Lansing, to cover Ferris, Central, Saginaw Valley, Michigan State Western and Grand Valley.

Pettipren said times and places for the hearings would be announced later.

"We hope in these series of meetings to be able to develop an open dialogue with students, faculty and administrators," he said. "We want to open everyone's lines of communication."

The subcommittee will include Pettipren and four other members of the colleges and universities committee: Republican Reps. Raymond Smit of Ann Arbor and Charles Varnum of Manistique, and Democratic Reps. Daisy Elliott and Jackie Vaughn, both of Detroit.

DON SMITH, whose legs have been paralyzed by polio, holds up his hands in what could only be termed a victory salute after tooling his wheel chair over 26 miles in the Tucson Admission's Day Marathon. Smith finished 110th in the 170-man field in a time of five hours, 32 minutes. (AP Wirephoto)

Streisand Is Highest Paid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Barbra Streisand's just-signed contract with the Las Vegas, Nev., International Hotel will make her the highest-paid performer in night club history, says Alex Shookey, the hotel's executive vice president.

Neither Shookey nor Miss Streisand would reveal what the salary will be. The hotel, opening later this year, will have a 2,000-seat main auditorium. Miss Streisand signed Monday for one engagement a year for five years.

Until now Frank Sinatra has been estimated to draw the biggest night club pay—$100,000 a week for four weeks in Las Vegas.

Library Index Cards Destroyed

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Thousands of index cards worth "many thousands of dollars" were taken secretly from the University of Illinois library over the weekend and destroyed a university spokesman said Monday night.

While the university declined to give an official estimate of damage beyond the term "many thousands of dollars," one source put the cost of the vandalism at $55,000.

Robert Evans, top public information officer said that the vandalism was a "crippling blow" and that it would take several years to undo the damage.

"Some of this information is not duplicated anywhere," he said. "Some books will be literally lost in the library."

The university's library, with 3.4 million volumes, is the largest state university library in the nation.

Central Michigan University Lists Honor Students

MT. PLEASANT—A total of 1,343 students have been named to the scholastic honors list for the 1969 fall semester at Central Michigan University, while 93 students have been cited for achieving straight "A" averages for the semester.

To be eligible for the scholastic honors list, a student must have a cumulative average of "B" or better for his entire college career. The straight "A" list is based on fall semester grades only.

The straight A students are:

Escanaba — Mary L. Gafner, 916 7th Ave. N., sophomore; Wells — Pamela M. Klug, 9 N. Second St., sophomore; Stephenson — Bruce R. Weng, 218 Division, sophomore.

B or Better:
Rock — Sally A. Waak, junior; Michael A. Bodanyi, St. Nicholas Road, sophomore; Gladstone — Alden W. Bjorklund, 915 Montana Ave., senior, Escanaba—

Suzanne M. Gannon, 2651 Lake Shore Drive, junior; Mary Joy Johnson, 321 1st Ave. S., senior; Mark H. Miller, 944 Sheridan Road, senior; Donald J. Nyquist, 905 6th Ave. S., sophomore; Mary E. Olinger, 918 S. 13th St., senior; Cynthia J. Ottensman, 1601 13th Ave. N., sophomore; Kathleen M. Sundquist, 1900 14th Ave. N., sophomore.

Stephenson—Linda A. Westman, senior; Manistique—Karen Sue Larson, 179 N. Maple Ave., junior.

Outrage On Campus

We have heard several parents say that if their children were involved in the protest on the University of Wisconsin campus they'd call them home.

Father Hesburgh of Notre Dame University has announced that anyone on its South Bend campus who substitutes force for rational persuasion — even non violent force — will be given 15 minutes for meditation before ouster. And that persons who can't show a card identifying them as Notre Dame students will be arrested as trespassers in any campus blowoffs.

An Upper Peninsula mother wrote to a friend that her son "Pete is certainly living in excitement these days at Madison. He phoned before the trouble to tell us what was going to happen. I think he wanted to support the boycott because he wanted to express his sympathy for the blacks and their plight. In getting to know some blacks this year he realizes how they have been cheated in society."

"However, we advised him against joining the boycott because these things always bring out the radical element and violence ensues. And so it happened. The radical white SDS are leading the parade and causing most of the trouble."

"Pete said that the Governor's calling out the National Guard has made many students, formerly neutral, mad and now they have joined in. Where will it all end in our universities? Every day there's another one!"

Many adults are wondering: Where is the sense of fitness in our young people when they are so emotionally swept away by Negro leadership — no matter how abused the Negroes may have been in America historically — that they contribute to the striking of their own university?

What good is to come of the use of muscle in defiance of authority, order and reason?

The Negroes at Madison posted a number of "non-negotiable" demands. They thus advertise that they will not reason together with the university administration about their grievances. For the university to accept such demands would be a surrender to thuggery; it cannot.

Already the Negroes by their "non-negotiable" demands have loosed a Pandora's chest of troubles in Wisconsin, with legislators saying that they'll introduce bills to increase the tuition for out-of-state students in order to keep out the "radicals." What blind, hurtful reaction this is: to keep from the University of Wisconsin a chance for its greatest distinction, which must always be its faculty and its student body.

The Negroes with their non-negotiable demands actually had a good case, but they presented it with such ineptitude and gangster method that they have prejudiced the public before it could understand what was up.

A chief demand of the blacks was that they be allowed to veto the hiring of instructors in a black program which they demanded for the university. What they sought was to exclude "Uncle Tom" black teachers who would be white foot kissers and sycophants. The Negroes have had enough of these cagey blacks who play the white game and, in effect, sell out their black brothers. It's not unreasonable, really, to have such persons excluded from a course in black history and sociology that the Negroes are proposing, because if they were to teach it, it would be slanted toward white protectionism.

But the Negroes propose to go to the other extreme and deny the university the authority to run its own courses. They, the Negroes, want veto power. And they want it, not as a result of negotiation, but as a matter of might, "non-negotiable!"

To accept such demands would mean destruction of the hope of any race getting justice by reason.

Negro Actors

In at least one area of American life, the Negro's battle for a place in the sun has been notably successful.

Advertising agencies claim "dramatic progress" in integrating magazine and television commercials, reports the Wall Street Journal. One Chicago agency now uses Negroes in over 20 per cent of its television commercials that require models. A year ago, none at all were used.

Progress giveth and progress taketh away, however.

The president of an agency in New York that handles black talent says that sponsors tend to discriminate against light-skinned Negroes in favor of "more typical ones."

Evidently, the current Mad Ave. motto is: White is right and black is beautiful but if you're brown — don't call us, we'll call you.

We're wondering how long it will be before there's a white backlash against Negro models in TV? Already they're up to a percentage equal to the Negro part of the population and pressing hard to make it bigger.

Smoke

A Redding, Calif., physician claims that habitual smoking causes crow's-feet and other wrinkling of the facial skin. Dr. Harry W. Danjell also says that threats of crow's-feet are more effective in making his female patients give up smoking than warnings about something minor like lung cancer.

As the commercial for a new ladies' cigarette puts it, "You've come a long way, baby" — and you look it.

Forgery Proof

According to Paul A. Osborn, head of a New York firm that specializes in the examination of questionable documents, the easiest kind of signature to forge is the jagged executive scrawl. The hardest is one that contains at least two full names and is written freely, yet legibly.

No Social Blackmail For Charles Evers

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

The moment of drama seemed to be missed by most Democratic leaders in the room when Charles Evers of the Mississippi NAACP, the state's new Democratic national committeeman, stepped to the podium to address the party gathering.

Evers said he was nervous, and that he never thought he would see the day when he or anyone of his race would be standing there representing Mississippi. In its way, it was much more a milestone than the party leadership change-over which took place that day.

Behind his rise to national committeeman lay four years of history which began in turbulent hearings at the 1964 Democratic convention in Atlantic City, when a group of Mississippi blacks sought to be seated as their state's delegates.

That effort failed, but it led to creation of a special Equal Rights Committee under first the late David Lawrence of Pennsylvania and then Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey.

That committee fixed rules for black representation in delegations to the 1968 convention. Evers, Dr. Aaron Henry and others carefully complied with these, and won recognition as Mississippi's delegates over a rival slate which convention officials disapproved.

The lesson in this, among other things, is that it was the consequence of a determined spirit of accommodation between blacks and whites. It is perhaps not insignificant, for instance, that the Democratic national committeewoman from Mississippi is white.

With George Wallace riding high in the Deep South last fall, no regular party nominee for president had a chance. But the Evers-Henry leadership, obviously drawing most heavily on thousands of newly registered black voters, nevertheless mustered 150,000 votes in Mississippi for the Humphrey-Muskie ticket. In the past, any nominee winning that large a vote has inevitably carried the state. And this showing surpassed that for the Nixon-Agnew slate.

What all this portends for the Democratic party in Mississippi and elsewhere in "Wallace country" is a story yet to be told. The red dust needs to settle awhile before signs can be read.

But Evers emerges as a strong figure. As he made impressively clear last year on a national television panel, he is an accommodator, an instinctive if not deeply schooled rationalist, a man with an eminent sense of fairness and balance.

He is an enemy of black separatism, against hate as a weapon for the betterment of his people, against the seeking after revenge.

As a true activist, he puts to shame the firebrands who think that venom, vandalism, obstructionism and outright social blackmail are the means of progress in a nation with a permanent, inescapable, and indeed growing mix of blacks and whites.

Evers stands in stunning contrast to such, self-important black racists as Dr. Nathan Hare, director of Negro studies at embattled San Francisco State College, who said flatly at Pittsburgh recently that "I think this is a time for hate."

Hare at that time lost an argument with Dr. Stephen Wright, president of the United Negro College Fund and another persuasive enemy of black separatism.

Hare dreams romantically that in a country 90 per cent white, with all that means in terms of political, economic and social weight, black separatism in studies of history, psychology and other fields will somehow give Negroes the power to build an independent black future in social and physical enclaves wholly their own.

But while Hare dwells in fantasy whose true borders are hatred and revenge, Charles Evers, taunted by militants even as he hides scars deeper than any they have ever known (including his brother's murder), moves into the world of real power and action.

He seeks black betterment by practical stages aimed at harmonizing the aspirations of all Americans. To Hare and other lovers of dissonance is left the irrational shouting, which resounds in an echo chamber where the noise of the unreal somehow is taken for the real.

Lent Is A Time For Pioneering

By DAVID POLING

Too many people within the Christian church are convinced that Lent is a dreary, but necessary, journey. Their vision of this period in the liturgical year is filled with somber, almost medieval heaviness. Christmas, with its merriment and laughter, is for children. Lent is for adults. Ash Wednesday sounds very grown-up — and it should — but let us not enter the Lenten season with the burdens of the past. Lent should be an adventure, a time of spiritual pioneering.

Lent must be a serious look at one's spiritual development. For the Christian this means a careful examination of his commitment within the church and society. Of all the times of the year, Lent is the moment for a clear gaze at the meaning of life and the promise of eternity. Or is that word too quaint for your snug world of shopping plazas, sporting events and mid-winter vacations?

Lent is worship and study and prayer and silence. And how we need silence! Recently I visited with David Hartman, star of the NBC television series, The Virginian. He confessed that he had only been riding a horse for two years — part of his preparation for this western series. Now he cannot imagine living without the joys and pleasures of horseback riding. Frequently, during the breaks of filming on location, he will ride out alone in the high ridges of their mountain scene, surrounded by pine trees, skyline and above all, silence. Here he finds the quietness and freedom to "put life back together" and rediscover the serenity of being alone with the Creator of it all.

During this Lenten season we shall examine the individual and the institution through excerpts from "The Last Years of the Church." This will be a look at the present situation as well as consideration of new, emerging patterns of Christian life. A spiritual pioneering cannot be easily charted or programmed by a computer. It is an adventure and that is what the Christian faith is all about.

CONGRESSIONAL REFORM
Operating under crusty old undemocratic rules, Congress has been charged with not being up to the task of transacting business in a modern, efficient way. In my opinion, these charges are absolutely correct. Reform is not easy to come by — especially when it threatens the ancient and creaky seniority structure. Twenty-six of us, labeled as "rebels in the House" by the New York Times are going to try. We have introduced a major reform package to make Congress more modern, more efficient and more democratic.

Under our reform bill, committee meetings must be made public unless a majority rules otherwise. There must be a roll call vote on all money bills. No billions of dollars are approved without knowing how anybody voted. Committee chairmen will no longer be able to kill legislation which is approved by a majority on the committee. Committee chairmen will no longer be able to head off legislation by refusing to call a committee meeting, as is now common practice.

Every bill must contain an estimate of the cost in carrying out its provisions. There are 40 major provisions in the bill. Individually these reforms may not seem dramatic, but as Roscoe Drummond, the columnist, wrote, "... added together, they go to the heart of making democratic government function more democratically."

While I have no illusions about the difficulty of getting my reform measure through Congress, neither am I totally pessimistic. Congressman Gerald Ford, the minority leader, has put my party firmly on the side of congressional reorganization. I am hopeful that Speaker McCormack and the majority leadership will do the same. Then, perhaps, with public support, we will get action.

Jamrich Holds 'Open Office'
MARQUETTE (AP) — John X. Jamrich, president of Northern Michigan University, has announced plans to hold "open office" on alternate weeks for faculty and students.

No appointment will be needed to see him between 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. on "open office" days, Jamrich said.

One day will be designated each week for faculty members and a day the following week for students. Faculty members may see him Friday; students, Feb. 25.

Win At Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

A mathematician would have no trouble making three no-trump with today's hand. He would win the spade lead with his ace and count eight tricks. The ninth could come in the diamond suit if the ace of diamonds shows up in the West hand. It could come in the heart suit if hearts were divided evenly. He would know that it was even money that West would hold the diamond ace and almost two to one against finding three hearts in each hand.

Then, because mathematicians don't like to waste time, he would win the spade in his hand, lead a diamond to dummy's king and claim his contract.

An expert bridge player would also make three no-trump but he would take a little more time doing it. Expert bridge players don't have to be great mathematicians but they all know that a suit breaks 3-3 a trifle less than 36 per cent of the time. They also are in no hurry to make important decisions, so the expert player would run off four club tricks before deciding which red suit would be better to attack.

West would have to make one discard and East two discards. One of them might throw away a heart. In that case, South might decide to play a heart to dummy's king and a second heart back to his ace to see if hearts were going to break for him. With one heart discarded, if both opponents followed twice there would only be one heart left to annoy him.

Or they might throw diamonds in such manner as to give South a very good idea where the ace could be found.

Failing all that, South would fall back on mathematics and try for his ninth trick in diamonds.

Ann Landers

Pantsuit Disturbs Fella, Wears Kilt

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know that the majority of people in this country are dumb, careless, lazy, and they love to chisel? I retired just in time. I don't think I could have survived another 30 days of dealing with the lousy American public.

As the head of a repair service department, I met just about everybody. This is what I learned: All kinds of people — the well-educated, the ignorant, the rich, the poor, the old and the young — they all want something for nothing. Furthermore, they can't read or they don't want to. They ignore instructions and assume that the rules were written for other people.

They bring in electric coffee-makers, toasters, irons, portable radios, stereos — and they want free service. "It's covered by the warranty," they announce as if they have uttered some magic words. When I asked, "Where is the warranty?" they looked shocked and replied, "I threw it out. I never keep that junk." My next question, "Do you have a bill of sale?" produced such responses as, "Who do you think you're talking to? Are you trying to say I stole this radio?"

I've been called every rotten name in the book and several names not in any book. Some people think the dirtier they talk to the salesperson, the more intimidated he will become and the better their chances of getting something for nothing.

Please print my letter, Ann. Maybe it will shake up a few million people. And it might make life a little easier for the unfortunate woman who took my job. — LIBERATED AT LAST

Dear Lib: Customers bringing in broken appliances are understandably irritated and belligerent. This is no justification for abusing salespeople, however, and I hope all the rude and thoughtless customers will take note.

Dear Ann Landers: Our college sophomore daughter is going steady with a law student. His name is Jason. A few weeks ago Cynthia wore a pantsuit and her boyfriend didn't like it. He told her to go put on a skirt. She refused. Finally he said, "O. K., you win, but this isn't the end of it."

Last night Jason showed up in a skirt. My husband answered the door and almost collapsed. You can't imagine the shock of seeing a 6' 1", 200-pounder in knee socks (hairy legs showing) — wearing a plaid jumper with pleats. When Cynthia saw him she gasped. Jason greeted her with, "It's a kilt."

They left to fight it out in private. My husband thinks Cynthia should not have gone with him. I don't know what to think. Do you? — HUNG JURY

Dear Jury: It sounds like a kilt to me, Madame, in which case, yes, it's a respectable outfit. Somewhat unconventional unless worn to a clan meeting, but respectable, nevertheless.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the book, let "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35c in coin with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago
Pupils of the Ford River Mills School, under the direction of Mrs. Chester Ward, have collected three boxes of games and playing cards for the veterans in Walter Reid Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Pvt. August John Brazeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. August E. Brazeau, 1417 1st Ave. N., Escanaba, is now beginning medical and psychological tests, classification and training with the Army Air Forces Training command. The processing is to determine his qualifications as a pre-aviation cadet.

50 Years Ago
Timely compliments were paid Director Sullivan of the Delft Orchestra on the conclusion of the run of the picture "The Great Love."

Conservation Workers Helping Feed Deer

FROM LEFT: Ed Kivioja and Joe Kodanko unload a snowmobile to be used to get them to a Department of Natural Resources deer range improvement cutting area in the Upper Peninsula. Center: Kivioja and Kodanko use the snowmobile to get into a deer yard several miles from a highway to cut browse for deer with their chainsaws, carried in the sled with gasoline. At right, Kodanko, left, and Kivioja used their chainsaws to cut off-site aspen near a deer yard in order to stimulate "suckering" of the tree roots to produce another stand of young trees to provide feed for the deer. (Dick Aartila Pictures for Department of Natural Resources)

One of the many Department of Natural Resources winter activities is a deer range improvement program.

Poor quality or nonmerchantable trees have been cut each winter for the past several years to improve the food conditions in and near the traditional wintering areas of deer. The amount of food available for deer during the critical winter months in these yards is one of the most important influences on deer numbers.

This winter started out more severe than normal and heavy snowfall pushed deer into their yards in December. In most of the yards in the mid - Upper Peninsula area, the trees that provide the most nutritious food for deer have either been overbrowsed (overeaten) or browse has grown out of their reach. Healthy deer can better survive cold and windy winters and they also will produce more and stronger fawns than will deer trying to survive on a quality diet.

To provide browse for deer, employees of the Department's Fire Division have been using heavy equipment and chainsaws to cut trees so that the branches will be within the reach of the deer. Members of the Gwinn field office, including Donald Maki, Donald Epelt, Joe Kodanko, and Edward Kivioja, are using chain saws. They are cutting mainly maple and aspen trees. Cedar is also being cut this winter due to the severe weather. The cutting is primarily done near the edge or on upland islands within a conifer deeryard.

Deer prefer to browse primarily on the tender tips of the branches. The more desperate they are for food, the larger the diameter of the branch they will eat. The cutting of hardwoods not only provides immediate browse, but also provides shoots from the stumps and roots. These shoots will provide additional food for future winters.

NMU Urged To Keep Corps

MARQUETTE (AP)—In direct opposition to a Faculty Senate Negro in two campus dormitory Government Association of Northern Michigan University voted Tuesday to urge the university to retain its Job Corps Center for women.

A school spokesman reported there had been some friction between students and trainees over use of campus recreational facilities.

The center houses 300 trainees, of which some 70 per cent are Negro, in two campus dormitories.

The Faculty Senate voted earlier to recommend that the center be removed from the campus or eliminated.

President John X. Jamrich has not yet announced a decision in the matter.

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — The Veterans Administration office reports it has received a pension application from a 102-year-old woman who says she is the widow of a soldier who served in the Civil War.

The applicant, Mrs. Mattie Grinnell, told the office she was married on Sept. 19, 1883, at Ft. Berthold, N.D., to John Nagel, who was in the Missouri Volunteer Cavalry from 1861 to 1864. He died in 1907.

Mrs. Grinnell lives in a log house near the farm home of her son, John Nagel, Jr., 73. Her pension application is pending in the veterans benefit office in Washington.

Pope's Talk To Children Opens Overseas Appeal

MARQUETTE — Pope Paul VI opened the 23rd annual American Catholic Overseas Aid Fund Appeal today with a radio message to pupils in the Catholic elementary and high schools in the Diocese of Marquette, according to Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, diocesan director of the appeal.

Children attending the public schools of the Peninsula will also be able to hear the Pope and respond to his appeal by tuning in the radio station of their choice.

The invitation of His Holiness will reach some 28,000 Catholic pupils in the schools of Upper Michigan.

The purpose of this annual nationwide appeal, conducted under the auspices of the Catholic Bishops of the United States, is to raise money to support the global relief, self-help and social welfare projects conducted in some 70 countries by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas aid and development agency of American Catholics.

The appeal is conducted in two phases. The first begins today on Ash Wednesday with Pope Paul asking the children to participate in a special 40-day Lenten campaign by performing acts of self-denial and making personal contributions to aid the needy, sick and undernourished infants and children in other lands.

The second and major phase runs from March 9 to 16 and is climaxed by a collection from adults to be taken on March 16, the middle Sunday of Lent, in all Catholic parishes.

U. P. children last year subscribed $1,900 to the Fund. Campaign Director Father Spelgatti said: "the message from Pope Paul will invite our children and young adults to respond to the need of innocent children in other lands who are being victimized by so much civil war. I am confident our children will respond to this call and be equal to the challenge it presents."

Pope's Talk To Children Opens Overseas Appeal

MARQUETTE — Pope Paul VI opened the 23rd annual American Catholic Overseas Aid Fund Appeal today with a radio message to pupils in the Catholic elementary and high schools in the Diocese of Marquette, according to Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, diocesan director of the appeal.

Children attending the public schools of the Peninsula will also be able to hear the Pope and respond to his appeal by tuning in the radio station of their choice.

The invitation of His Holiness will reach some 28,000 Catholic pupils in the schools of Upper Michigan.

The purpose of this annual nationwide appeal, conducted under the auspices of the Catholic Bishops of the United States, is to raise money to support the global relief, self-help and social welfare projects conducted in some 70 countries by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas aid and development agency of American Catholics.

The appeal is conducted in two phases. The first begins today on Ash Wednesday with Pope Paul asking the children to participate in a special 40-day Lenten campaign by performing acts of self-denial and making personal contributions to aid the needy, sick and undernourished infants and children in other lands.

The second and major phase runs from March 9 to 16 and is climaxed by a collection from adults to be taken on March 16, the middle Sunday

Mrs. Steven Swanson

Lorraine Peterson, Steven Swanson Wed

The Trenary Methodist Church was the setting Saturday, Feb. 15 for the wedding of Lorraine Marie Peterson of Trenary and Steven P. Swanson of Skandia.

The Rev. James Ritchie performed the double ring ceremony at 4 p. m. before an altar adorned with mum bouquets. Soloists for the service were Mrs. William Bucholtz and Mrs. Frank Richmond and organist was Mrs. George Hager.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peterson of Trenary and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Swanson of Skandia.

Peau de Soie
The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length sheath gown of peau de soie, fashioned with modified scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a detachable chapel train.

A forward lace petal headpiece with pearl trim secured her shoulder length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of red rosebuds with white carnations and ivy.

Betty Robinson was maid of honor for her cousin and Jim Holman served as best man. Seating the guests were Don Sandstrom and Henry Holman.

Rose Linen

The honor maid was attired in a deep rose linen gown with a deep rose satin bow headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pin carnations with ivy foliage.

Mrs. Peterson wore for her daughter's wedding a grey metallic two piece suit with matching accessories and she was presented a bouquet of red and white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a deep green faille dress with matching accessories and she pinned a corsage of deep rose and white carnations and rosebuds.

Reception

The reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. They will make their home at the Birch Grove Trailer Court in Marquette.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Trenary High School and she is presently employed at St. Luke's Hospital. Mr. Swanson is a 1963 graduate of Graveraet High School, Marquette and also served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is employed as a salesman for N. W. R. Electronics in Marquette.

Senior Citizens Club Organized In Germfask

On Feb. 4 Richard Marsh, director of Senior Citizens at Manistique showed the film, "Grandma Moses", to a group of Germfask senior citizens. Mr. Marsh was accompanied by Mrs. Minola Weber and Mrs. Clara Whitman of Manistique who spoke on the purposes of a Senior Citizens' Club.

The 12 persons attending the meeting expressed a desire to form a club in the Germfask-Seney area and Vernon Lloyd was elected to head the group with Mrs. Jean Lastila, secretary.

A meeting was held Thursday, Feb. 13, at which time 25 persons attended and the club was officially organized. George Rojem was elected vice president and Mrs. Thurman Skarritt Sr., treasurer.

Committees were appointed and the group will meet on the second Thursday of the month in Germfask and the fourth Thursday of the month at Seney at 7:30 p. m.

Leonard Shay offered the use of a building, which is located behind the Community Action Agency for use for a Drop-in Center, which will be made ready in the near future.

Plans were also made to hold a Homecoming on July 26 and 27 and a meeting will be held Sunday, Feb. 23 at 2 p. m. at the Germfask School to complete the arrangements.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Trenary High School and she is presently employed at St. Luke's Hospital. Mr. Swanson is a 1963 graduate of Gravenet High School, Marquette and also served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is employed as a salesman for N. W. R. Electronics in Marquette.

Senior Citizens Club Organized In Germfask

On Feb. 4 Richard Marsh, director of Senior Citizens at Manistique showed the film, "Grandma Moses", to a group of Germfask senior citizens. Mr. Marsh was accompanied by Mrs. Minola Weber and Mrs. Clara Whitman of Manistique who spoke on the purposes of a Senior Citizens' Club.

The 12 persons attending the meeting expressed a desire to form a club in the Germfask-Seney area and Vernon Lloyd was elected to head the group with Mrs. Jean Laustila, secretary.

A meeting was held Thursday, Feb. 13, at which time 25 persons attended and the club was officially organized. George Rojem was elected vice president and Mrs. Thurman Skarritt Sr., treasurer.

Committees were appointed and the group will meet on the second Thursday of the month in Germfask and the fourth Thursday of the month at Seney at 7:30 p. m.

Leonard Shay offered the use of a building, which is located behind the Community Action Agency for use for a Drop-in Center, which will be made ready in the near future.

Plans were also made to hold a Homecoming on July 26 and 27 and a meeting will be held Sunday, Feb. 23 at 2 p. m. at the Germfask School to complete the arrangements.

Appointment Of Willie Rogers Is Short Lived

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is finding a source of jokes in something that could have been anything but a laughing matter for his administration—the short-lived appointment of Willie Mae Rogers as consumer affairs consultant.

Nixon paid a surprise visit today to a party his wife, Pat, gave for 144 newswomen and cabinet wives and recalled that she had been criticized at his second news conference for having named only three women to government posts.

"I realized that was a legitimate criticism so I just went and appointed a woman consultant on consumer affairs," Nixon said. Then he added, to laughter, "That shows what can happen when you listen to criticism from the press."

Miss Rogers quit her consultant's position over the weekend after her decision to continue as the salaried director of the Good Housekeeping Institute and keeper of its seal of good housekeeping prompted a storm of criticism.

Nixon even read a Valentine purported to be from Miss Rogers.

"Faces are red, consumers are blue; four days for me, four ears for you."

"I was thinking about eight ears," the President added.

He promised his administration will continue to give women an increasing role in government. He told the newspaperwomen with a smile that he welcomed their "seal of approval."

Nixon was on his way to the State Department for briefings on his forthcoming European trip and he explained his wife wasn't going along this time because it will be a working trip, but he said he is well aware the role a First Lady can play abroad is an immense one."

Mrs. Nixon will go along on future trips as she has in the past. She's the best asset I have," he said.

Initiation Held At Rock 4-H Club Meeting

The Rock 4-H Club older members initiated 10 new members during the February meeting at the Rock Lions clubhouse Wednesday evening.

Tina Mankiewicz and Carolyn Kulack were in charge of initiation.

Members who have joined since last fall are Mark and Charyl Wilcox, Kathy, Greg and Bill Brunette, Renee Kivela, Marlene Leach, Carol Ontto, Sherry Wadeen and Brenda Norden.

Patricia Waak conducted the meeting. All girls are in the textile painting project with Susie Koski as teen leader and Mrs. Leo Koski, leader.

Tina was chosen by members to be the Rock 4-H Club queen and the local achievement program was discussed. The program committee is to report at the next meeting on theme and decorations. Members are urged to take part in the talent competition.

The West Rock 4-H Club is invited to join for the program and a tentative date has been set for Friday night, March 21, at the Rock School. All project work is exhibited at the program, and the public is invited.

Games were played and lunch served after the meeting. The next meeting, which is the final winter meeting, will be held March 12.

Fluoride Will Be Offered In Summer Clinics

Topical applications of fluoride will again be offered to Menominee County area children this summer, according to Mrs. Elton Westman, Stephenson, chairman of the committee in charge.

The fluoride program which is supervised by the Michigan Department of Public Health, will be made available to preschoolers, second, fifth, and eighth graders and to special cases referred by dentists. The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic at approximately two day intervals.

The child's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. The fluoride application only is then repeated during the three succeeding visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 per cent compared with the 60 to 65 per cent reduction obtained with fluoridated water.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, is also part of the program.

Students of the second, fifth, and eighth grades will be receiving a letter with forms to be filled out by the parent in the near future. A $2 fee is charged.

Parents of preschoolers should call the chairman in their location:

Mrs. Walter Peterson, Powers; Mrs. Harold Bergquist, Bark River; Mrs. Richard Lungenhausen, Hermansville; Mrs. LaVerne Allgeyer, school nurse, Menominee; Carney - Nadeau Public School, Carney. Mrs. Elton Westman, Stephenson.

The first great business depression in the United States occurred in 1837, during the administration of President Van Buren.

Flat Rock PTC Meeting Held

The Flat Rock Parent-Teachers Club held their regular meeting Feb. 11 in the multipurpose room of the school. Frank Paquin presided at the meeting.

Plans were made to have pictures taken of school students and pre-schoolers on Feb. 29. Room count was won by Mrs. Lindner's fourth grade.

Refreshments were served by the fourth grade mothers with the Mesdames, Richard King, Duane Hoffman, George Hayes, Ronald Nelson, Gerald Nelson, Thomas Srock, William Frazer, and Jack MacGillis, in charge.

Presbyterian Ladies To Hold Luncheon Meet

The Women's Association of the First United Presbyterian Church will hold its February luncheon meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 25 at 1:15 p. m.

Members of Circle II with Mrs. Jack Sprague, chairman will be hostesses for the luncheon and Mrs. Robert Meyer has planned an interesting program on Presbytery Point.

Robert Meyer has been camp manager at Presbytery Point since 1957 and in these 13 years he and Mrs. Meyer have taken many slides of the activities and growth of the camp Mrs. Meyer will show these slides during her talk.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made through Monday by calling Mrs. Sprague at 786-1218 or the church office 786-2932. Nursery care will be provided for the children.

Mancelona Man, 36, Named School Chief

Wesley L. Fleet, 36, superintendent of the Mancelona Public Schools, has accepted the superintendency of the Gladstone Public Schools. It is announced today by the Gladstone Board of Education.

Fleet will be a successor to the late Wallace Cameron, superintendent of Gladstone Schools for 25 years, who died suddenly in October last year. Cameron had been honored for his service at a community celebration held earlier in the year, attended by 300 persons.

Jerrold Becvar, president of the Gladstone Board of Education, said the board is pleased with Fleet's acceptance of the position. The board had carefully screened 30 applicants with the assistance of Keith Forsburg, placement director, Northern Michigan University.

Have Two Sons

"We're very happy to come to the end of the search," Becvar said. "All of the candidates were good people."

The 30 were screened down to 10 and the board had personal interviews with each, and after the interviews the number was reduced to four and then two before the final selection was made.

Fleet is a native of Mancelona, where he was born March 31, 1932. He and his wife, Patricia, have two sons, Jeffrey 12 and Gregory 9. Mrs. Fleet's home was in Traverse City.

"I hope to be on the job up there sometime between June 15 to July 1, earlier than that hopefully, but that will depend on when my replacement arrives here," Fleet told the Escanaba Daily Press.

Working On Doctorate

"There are a number of factors that we considered in deciding to accept the position at Gladstone," he added.

"We were looking for a good school system that is financially sound, a system where our sons might do well and also participate in the sports in which they are interested, and where we can be near the outdoors we all enjoy. Gladstone met all of these requirements for us."

"Still another factor is the nearness of Bay de Noc Community College and Northern Michigan University."

Fleet has a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University, with a major in industrial education and minors in social studies and physical education; a masters degree from Michigan State; an educational specialist degree from the University of Michigan, and is presently working toward his doctorate at Michigan State.

Coaching Background

He was six years a junior-senior high school teacher at East Jordan, where he was head football and track coach. Fleet is six feet tall, weighs 190 pounds, and was selected to referee two state basketball tournament finals.

He was employed as administrative specialist for the Charlevoix-Emmet County Intermediate School District and for the Cheboygan-Otsego and Presque Isle Intermediate School District; served as elementary principal at Mancelona Public Schools; and has been superintendent since 1966.

Fleet is a member of the Rotary Club, the American Legion, the Michigan Association of School Administrators, and is associated in activities with the Methodist Church. He is immediate past president of the Mancelona Area Chamber of Commerce and is active in the Sportsmen's Club.

Library Receives Books From Federation Grant

The Gladstone School and Public Library has received the first shipment of processed books from the $1000 grant from the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation. It is announced by Mrs. Harold Anderson, librarian.

All books purchased with these funds are adult non-fiction. Some titles included in this shipment are Arthur Krock's Memoirs, "Sixty Years on the Firing Line", telling of his experiences as correspondent for the New York Times; Thura Bjorn's, "The Home Has A Heart", reminiscences of life and food in a Swedish home; Jenny Moore's, "The People on Second Street", eight years in the life of an Episcopal priest serving a Jersey City slum district; The New Gold in Your Attic by Bradley, a guidebook for book hunters; Women Alone, by Isabella Taves, a book for widows and divorcees; Aaron, r. f., the Story of Henry Aaron; Introducing Machine Embroidery, by Ira Lillow; Starting From Scratch, a guide to home decorating by Joanna Barnes; Of Diamonds and Diplomats, the story of the former secretary to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, and many others.

The member libraries are working toward commercial processing of book orders to permit the librarians more time to spend in book selections and servicing patrons. Because the six county federation is combining book orders, books can be purchased at a higher discount according to Mrs. Anderson and enables the Federation to help subsidize the processing costs.

Any resident of Delta County can become a patron of the Gladstone and/or Escanaba City Library by registering. This service is offered through the Delta County Library Board and the Escanaba City Library Board.

The Mid-Peninsula Library Federation is attempting to enrich the resources of both public libraries in Delta County through grants and through its book and record pool.

Three Men Join Chamber Board

The Gladstone Chamber of Commerce has elected three new members to the Board of Directors.

Dr. James Dehlin, William Wyatt and R. A. Watson will replace Dr. Otto Hult, Arthur Pope and Reuben Sjoquist, whose terms expired.

At a recent meeting, the Board of Directors increased the financial support to the International Gold Cup snowmobile races and also to the queen's luncheon at the James T. Jones school Saturday.

The board voted $300 to the race committee for prizes and another $95 to help defray cost of the queen's luncheon.

The snowmobile races will be held in Gladstone Saturday and Sunday.

The Chamber again will sponsor a Hobby Fair at the James T. Jones school sometime in April. Dr. Hult will be in charge of arrangements.

An organizational meeting for the new Board of Directors will be held in March and members were asked to note the change in meeting dates from 7 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month to the second Tuesday at noon in the Chamber office in the Riatto Building.

Other members of the Board of Directors are Arthur Dorn, Dan Finlan, Harry Schoch, Alcott Erickson, Robert Huppy and Dick Schoenberg. The board reminded chamber members they are welcome to attend all monthly meetings.

Rapid River

Mrs. Mari Maggart, Nell, Frank and Mike spent the weekend visiting in Kenosha, Wis., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson.

Mrs. Inez Boudart spent the weekend in Kenosha visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Savilgo and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sellman.

Girls Tell Of Interest In Community School

Boy Scout Troop 466, under the direction of Ellis Movallson and Del Lorenson, performed the flag raising ceremony to open the regular meeting of Central P. T. A. Monday evening at the James T. Jones School.

Carol Sandstrom, Laurie Kaufman and Kristen Olson presented the program on the work being done in Creative Art and French in connection with the Community School program.

Laurie and Carol have been conducting art classes for the past six weeks and have been instructing youngsters in the construction of paper flowers, animals from corks and valentines for the younger children. They have also supervised creative designs in yarn and collages for the older children.

Kristen Olson told the group the turn out for her French classes was far greater than expected and other high school students had been called upon to assist with the program. She said basic French was taught in preparation for high school courses and was very well received.

The girls indicated growing interest in the classes and many students have asked if the program would be repeated for another six week period. However other areas will be covered in the six week period now being organized.

Room count winners were Mrs. Zola Beauchamp's first grade and Mrs. Lucille Fisher's second grade. Refreshments were served by mothers of Mrs. Lillian Greene's fourth grade students.

Episcopal Bishop Reports On Meet

The Rt. Rev. George R. Selway, D. D., Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, will be at Trinity Episcopal Church Thursday evening to show slides and report on his attendance at the Lambeth Conference held in London, England, last summer.

Women of the Church will serve a dinner at the church at 6:30 p. m. and the program will follow. Anyone interested in hearing this program is welcome to attend.

Blood Mobile Here Tuesday

The Mobile Unit of the Badger Blood Bank will be at the James T. Jones School Tuesday, Feb. 25 from 3 to 7 p. m. Mrs. Milburn Nolan is in charge of the recruitment program and will attempt to have enough donors on hand to fill the 62 pint quota required of Gladstone. When the unit visited Gladstone in December 69 pints were procured and it is hoped that the results will be as gratifying during this visit.

Apollo 9 Mission Tests 'Flimsey' Lunar Module

EDITORS NOTE—On Feb. 28 three astronauts are scheduled to be shot into space in another step toward the goal of landing U.S. spacemen on the moon by mid-1969. The Apollo 9 mission is described as probably the most complex of the manned flights yet. Here, in the first of three articles on Apollo 9, Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt, who will command the flight, gives his view of the venture.

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "I wouldn't give you two dollars a day for a room in it. But it's designed to land us on the moon."

That's Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt describing the fragile lunar module which he will help test on the Apollo 9 flight scheduled to start from Cape Kennedy Feb. 28.

McDivitt will command the flight. With him will be Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart.

They are to orbit the earth for 10 days in one of the most complex man in space flights yet attempted. Many rate it tougher than the Apollo 8 moon orbit mission.

The major goal, McDivitt said, is to give the lunar module, called a LEM, its first manned test in space. The LEM looks like a giant bug, like something you might find crawling around the pipes in your basement.

"Like Tissue Paper"

"My impression when I first saw a LEM," McDivitt said, "was 'Holy Moses, we're going to really fly that thing in space'."

"It's a very flimsy craft—like a tissue paper spacecraft," he continued. "If we're not careful, we could easily put a foot through it."

"It has an entirely different mission than any other spacecraft has ever had. Other spacecraft had to withstand re-entry G's, earth landing with parachutes and had a pretty rough environment to live in."

"The LEM isn't like that," he said. "It is not designed to re-enter the atmosphere or make hard landings. It will fly only in the vacuum of space and not in any atmosphere. It is intended to make a soft landing on the moon."

Fly Two Vehicles

McDivitt noted there aren't any seats in it, that the two men who pilot it must do so standing up. That's because weight is very critical in the vehicle and because it's not intended to support life for more than a day or so while astronauts are on the moon.

Not For Comfort

"It's not designed for comfort," McDivitt said. "When they want to rest on the moon they'll have to lie on the floor or against the equipment bays."

When Apollo 9 is launched by a Saturn 5 rocket, McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart will ride in the main Apollo ship, with the LEM resting in an adapter section between the third stage and the spaceship.

Once in orbit 118 miles high, the astronauts separate the main ship, called a command

TESTING THE LUNAR MODULE — Then lunar module for the Apollo 9 mission undergoes testing of its landing gear at Kennedy Space Center, Fla. This will be the first manned flight of the LEM. In Apollo 9, Astronauts James McDivitt and Russell Schweickart will operate the LEM in Earth orbit and rendezvous and dock with the command and service modules. The crewmen will transfer to the command module before the LEM is detached and sent into high Earth orbit. During their maneuvers in the LEM McDivitt and Schweickart will operate both the descent and ascent engines. Schweickart will also make a space walk.

module, and turn around to dock with the LEM, pulling it free of the third stage.

"When you put the LEM and command module together you have a pretty big mass weighing about 90,000 pounds," McDivitt said. "It's a completely new guidance task from what we experienced on Apollo 7 and Apollo 8."

"Our job on Apollo 9 is to prove in earth orbit that we can actually fly this gigantic mass to the moon, stop it there and perform a lunar landing with the LEM."

Fly Two Vehicles

"Ours is a very complex flight because we are flying two vehicles for the first time, and on the fourth day they'll be as much as 100 miles apart, with two men in the LEM and one in the command module."

McDivitt said that on the second day he and Schweickart will crawl through a connecting tunnel into the LEM and activate its systems.

On the third day, Schweickart is to step outside the LEM for a two-hour space walk during which he'll evaluate the suit that later astronauts will wear while strolling on the moon.

Previous U.S. space walkers were connected by hoses to the spaceship's life support system. Schweickart will be kept alive by oxygen and other equipment carried in a pack on his back. To keep from floating too far away, he will be tied to the

Critical Phase

"While outside," McDivitt explained, "Rusty will try to develop the techniques by which we can transfer from the LEM to the command module in case the tunnel is blocked or if we have a problem where we can't dock the vehicles."

Gripping handrails, Schweickart will make his way along the sides of the two joined vehicles to the command module. Scott will open the hatch to permit the lower half of Schweickart's body to enter. After a rest period, Schweickart will return to the LEM along the same handrail route.

On the fourth day, McDivitt and Schweickart will separate the LEM from the command module and fly to a point 109 miles away. Then they'll start a tricky rendezvous exercise to return to a linkup with Scott.

The rendezvous will simulate as closely as possible that which will be made by two LEM astronauts when they leave the moon to catch up with the command module pilot who has been orbiting while they've been exploring below.

"I guess you'd probably call this the most critical phase of the Apollo 9 mission," McDivitt said. "The LEM has no heat shield and no tether so it can't re-enter the atmosphere. It's essential that the LEM returns to the command module in order to get home."

New Walleye, Northern Closer On February 28

Fishermen are urged by the Department of Natural Resources to discard any existing copies of the 1968 Law Digest and refer only to the 1969 edition. There were several changes affecting opening and closing dates. Of special significance now are the following:

1. Walleye and northern pike hook and line season in local Great Lakes waters which formerly continued through March 31 now closes Feb. 28.

2. The hook and line season for walleye on non-trout streams and inland lakes which formerly continued through March 15 now closes Feb. 28.

3. The hook and line season for northern pike on non-trout streams and inland lakes closes Feb. 28.

4. The hook and line season for sturgeon closes Feb. 28.

5. The general spearing season on inland waters closes Feb. 28.

6. The special season for trout on certain trout lakes closes Feb. 28. Non-trout lakes not managed for trout but which have a trout population are not affected by this closure. Such non-trout lakes are open year-round as are the Great Lakes.

The bright spot in the fishing picture continues to be for bluegills in Anderson and Little Shag lakes near Gwinn and Wedge Lake near Munising.

Elsewhere, the fishing is classed as fair with the most activity and success as follows:

Trout: Johnson Lake near Gwinn, Mouth of the Dead River near Marquette, Trout Lake near Trenary, Mirror Lake and Ackerman Lake in Alger County near Munising.

Northern Pike: Goose Lake near Ishpeming, Mouth of the Dead River near Marquette, Au Train Lake and 16-Mile Lake in Alger County.

Perch: Teal Lake near Ishpeming, Lake Independence near Big Bay, Au Train Basin near Chatham in Alger County.

They are to orbit the earth for 10 days in one of the most complex man in space flights yet attempted. Many rate it tougher than the Apollo 8 moon orbit mission.

The major goal, McDivitt said, is to give the lunar module, called a LEM, its first manned test in space. The LEM looks like a giant bug, like something you might find crawling around the pipes in your basement.

"Like Tissue Paper"

"My impression when I first saw a LEM," McDivitt said, "was 'Holy Moses, we're going to really fly that thing in space.'"

"It's a very flimsy craft—like a tissue paper spacecraft," he continued. "If we're not careful, we could easily put a foot through it."

"It has an entirely different mission than any other spacecraft has ever had. Other spacecraft had to withstand re-entry G's, earth landing with parachutes and had a pretty rough environment to live in."

"The LEM isn't like that," he said. "It is not designed to re-enter the atmosphere or make hard landings. It will fly only in the vacuum of space and not in any atmosphere. It is intended to make a soft landing on the moon."

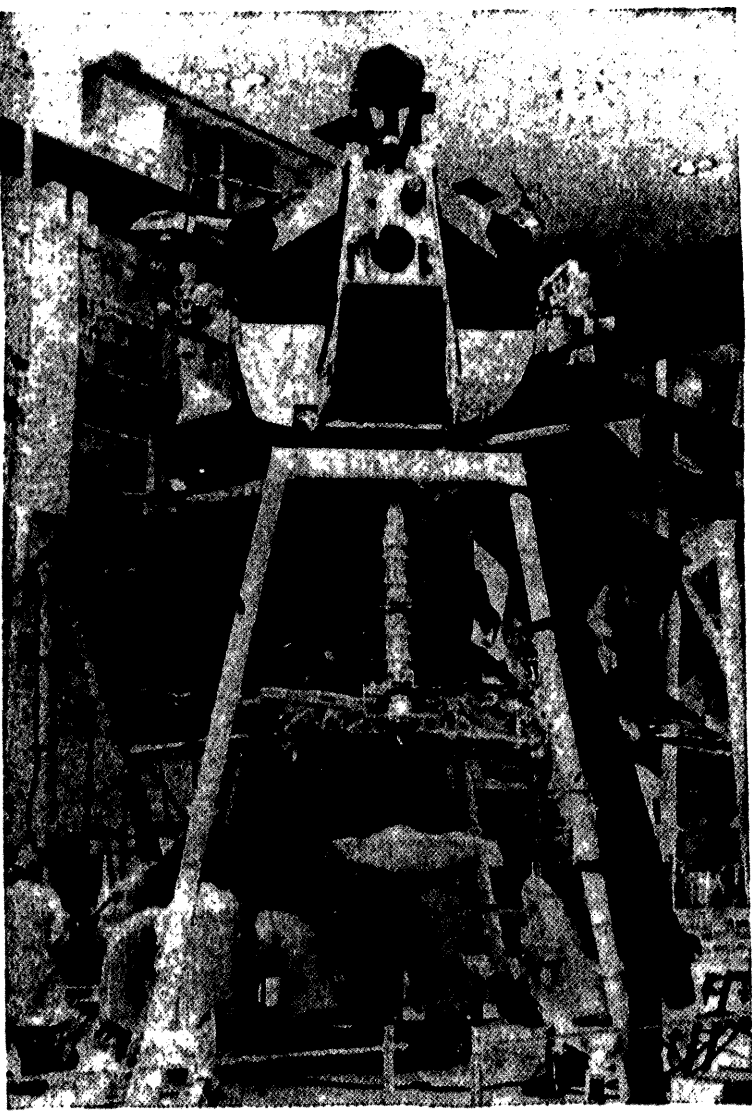

McDivitt noted there aren't any seats in it, that the two men who pilot it must do so standing up. That's because weight is very critical in the vehicle and because it's not intended to support life for more than a day or so while astronauts are on the moon.

Not For Comfort

"It's not designed for comfort," McDivitt said. "When they want to rest on the moon they'll have to lie on the floor or against the equipment bays."

When Apollo 9 is launched by a Saturn 5 rocket, McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart will ride in the main Apollo ship, with the LEM resting in an adapter section between the third stage and the spaceship.

Once in orbit 118 miles high, the astronauts separate the main ship, called a command

TESTING THE LUNAR MODULE—The lunar module for the Apollo 9 mission undergoes testing of its landing gear at Kennedy Space Center, Fla. This will be the first manned flight of the LEM. In Apollo 9, Astronauts James McDivitt and Russell Schweickart will operate the LEM in Earth orbit and rendezvous and dock with the command and service modules. The crewmen will transfer to the command module before the LEM is detached and sent into high Earth orbit. During their maneuvers in the LEM McDivitt and Schweickart will operate both the descent and ascent engines. Schweickart will also make a space walk.

module, and turn around to dock with the LEM, pulling it free of the third stage.

"When you put the LEM and command module together you have a pretty big mass weighing about 90,000 pounds," McDivitt said. "It's a completely new guidance task from what we experienced on Apollo 7 and Apollo 8."

On job on Apollo 9 is to prove in earth orbit that we can actually fly this gigantic mass to the moon, stop it there and perform a lunar landing with the LEM.

Fly Two Vehicles

"Ours is a very complex flight because we are flying two vehicles for the first time, and on the fourth day they'll be as much as 100 miles apart with two men in the LEM and one in the command module."

McDivitt said that on the second day he and Schweickart will crawl through a connecting tunnel into the LEM and activate its systems.

On the third day, Schweickart is to step outside the LEM for a two-hour, space walk during which he'll evaluate the suit that later astronauts will wear while strolling on the moon.

Previous U.S. space walkers were connected by hoses to the spaceship's life support system. Schweickart will be kept alive by oxygen and other equipment carried in a pack on his back. To keep from floating too far away, he will be tied to the

LEM by a 25-foot cord.

Critical Phase

"While outside," McDivitt explained, "Rusty will try to develop the techniques by which we can transfer from the LEM to the command module in case the tunnel is blocked or if we have a problem where we can't dock the vehicles."

Gripping handrails, Schweickart will make his way along the sides of the two joined vehicles to the command module. Scott will open the hatch to permit the lower half of Schweickart's body to enter. After a rest period, Schweickart will return to the LEM along the same handrail route.

On the fourth day, McDivitt and Schweickart will separate the LEM from the command module and fly to a point 109 miles away. Then they'll start a tricky rendezvous exercise to return to a linkup with Scott.

The rendezvous will simulate as closely as possible that which will be made by two LEM astronauts when they leave the moon to catch up with the command module pilot who has been orbiting while they've been exploring below.

"I guess you'd probably call this the most critical phase of the Apollo 9 mission," McDivitt said. "The LEM has no heat shield and no tether so it can't re-enter the atmosphere. It's essential that the LEM returns to the command module in order to get home."

Fishermen are urged by the Department of Natural Resources to discard any existing copies of the 1968 Law Digest and refer only to the 1969 edition. There were several changes affecting opening and closing dates. Of special significance now are the following:

1. Walleye and northern pike hook and line season in local Great Lakes waters which formerly continued through March 31 now closes Feb. 28.

2. The hook and line season for walleye on non-trout streams and inland lakes which formerly continued through March 15 now closes Feb. 28.

3. The hook and line season for northern pike on non-trout streams and inland lakes closes Feb. 28.

4. The hook and line season for sturgeon closes Feb. 28.

5. The general spearing season on inland waters closes Feb. 28.

6. The special season for trout on certain trout lakes closes Feb. 28. Non-trout lakes not managed for trout but which have a trout population are not affected by this closure. Such non-trout lakes are open year-round as are the Great Lakes.

The bright spot in the fishing picture continues to be for bluegills in Anderson and Little Shag lakes near Gwin, Trout Lake near Trenary, Mirror Lake and Ackerman Lake in Alger County near Munising.

Elsewhere, the fishing is

Red Cross Calling For Blood Donors

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will arrive in Delta County on Feb. 25 for its first visit of 1969. It is announced by the Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The schedule: Gladstone—James T. Jones School, Tuesday, Feb. 25, from 3 to 7 o'clock.

Escanaba—Teamsters Building, Wednesday, Feb. 26, 2:30 to 7:30; and on Thursday, Feb. 27, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

At the last visit of the bloodmobile to Delta County, Gladstone exceeded its quota of 62 units by 5 units, and Escanaba on its first day quota of 115 units went over by 11 units. But the third day dropped to approximately one-half of the needed amount for the day in the midst of a sudden snowstorm.

Fifty-nine donors offered their blood in December in replacement for Steven Micheau, Escanaba, who was severely burned in an industrial accident. Approximately 100 units of whole blood and blood derivatives were administered to the young man who was treated in the Burn Center of St. Mary's Hospital, Milwaukee.

The Red Cross announced that persons who may still wish to replace blood may do so at the upcoming visit of the bloodmobile.

Daily quotas for the Bloodmobile this month are 62 at Gladstone, and 115 and 115 for the two days at Escanaba. Appointments may be made through service clubs and employers as well as at the Red Cross office.

The encouragement of the donor campaign is one of the public service projects of the young people of the First Presbyterian and the First Methodist Churches. A group of junior high age young people will on Feb. 20 ring doorbells in Escanaba, asking people to become donors.

Sponsors of this group are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nelson and Mrs. Marlin Roberts. A film informing the young people of the life-saving uses of blood has been seen by them in preparation for their calls on prospective donors.

Marines Offer 120-Day Delay Enlistment Plan

Volunteer enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps is now open to persons who have received notice to report for induction.

Such persons may now elect to enlist in the Marine Corps and delay their reporting date for active duty for up to 120 days after scheduled date of induction. In the past, the Marine Corps has accepted volunteers who had received their draft notice, but could not offer the "120-Day Delay Program".

Information concerning the new Marine Corps enlistment program may be obtained from the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-Station at Room 206 at the Post Office in Escanaba or by calling 863-6115 collect in Menominee, Mich.

Officers Chosen By Detroit &amp; Northern Assn.

Directors and officers of Detroit & Northern Savings & Loan Association, Hancock, have reelected Walter A. Johnson, Allan J. Stevenson and Paul W. Swift directors for three-year terms.

Reelected for one-year terms were honorary directors F. T. Hinks and E. R. Lovell. Two new officers were also elected by the board — John E. Christophersen, loan officer, and Patrick J. Lowney, assistant vice president.

Other directors are D. W. Seaton, R. D. Seaton, Dr. L. C. Aldrich, A. J. Dion, R. E. Hinks, G. W. Polley and Dr. J. R. Van Pelt.

Officers reelected were: D. W. Seaton, chairman of the board; W. A. Johnson, vice chairman; K. D. Seaton, president; B. B. MacLean, secretary-treasurer; B. A. Gwisdala, W. C. Martino, F. J. Halonen, vice presidents; R. R. Knapp, assistant vice president; J. G. Bennett, assistant treasurer; F. A. Walitalo, assistant secretary.

It was noted that D & N's assets at year-end were $205,000,000 — an increase of 5 per cent for the year. Savings were up 6.4 per cent to $180,000,000 while $48,000,000 was advanced on real estate mortgage loans. Loans on the books now stand at $183,000,000.

President K. D. Seaton said changes in 1968 included the introduction of the 5 1/4 per cent six-month Investment Certificate. Savings have increased steadily since it was first made available to the public last May.

"As we look into 1969, early indications point toward an improved savings flow. Economists in general predict a slow-down of the economy and a higher percentage of personal income placed in savings. However, the strong demand for mortgage money will keep interest rates at their maximum. It is interesting to note that over 74,000 savers and borrowers now use our services," he said.

Soviets' ABM Hit Snag: Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., suggested Tuesday that Soviet efforts to develop a workable anti-ballistic missile ABM system "have met with little success."

Hart, a leading Senate critic of the Sentinel ABM defense system, asked Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to supply him with data on comparative expenditure of Soviet and U.S. antimissile defenses and of Soviet progress in the field.

Such information "will improve my understanding of developments in this critically important area," he said, citing "reports that Soviet efforts to develop a workable ABM have met with little success."

Militant Blasts Indian Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP) — A self-styled American Indian militant blasted the Bureau of Indian Affairs Tuesday in a senate committee hearing presided over by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Leman Brightman, a Sioux-Creek Indian from South Dakota who heads the United States Americans said "Indians must learn to overcome conquest through psychological, economic and educational liberation."

He called Indians who go along with a white-dominated society "Uncle Tomahawks."

Ralph Nader who gained fame as an auto critic, joined Brightman at the hearing before the Senate Indian Education Subcommittee, saying the Bureau of Indian Affairs should be removed from the Interior Department, revamped to make it more responsive to Indian wishes and re-established as an independent agency.

Brightman told the subcommittee the bureau has fostered an educational system to keep the nation's Indian tribes in a dependent, subservient position.

Brightman, who said his great-grandfather was killed attacking U.S. Army troops under Gen. George A. Custer at the Little Big Horn, is a graduate student at the University of California at Berkeley.

He said the bureau tried "to perpetuate our ignorance by denying higher education to Indians," added that he went to college by "sheer luck," winning a football scholarship to Oklahoma A & M.

Paper Co. Credit Union Holds 28th Annual Meeting

The Escanaba Paper Co. Employees Federal Credit Union held its 28th annual meeting at the Terrace Supper Club Feb. 15. About 250 members and guests attended.

Reelected to the Board of Directors were Joyce Borman, Francis Londo, and Chester Schram. Re-elected to the Credit Committee was Hugh Nelson.

Ron Hale spoke on "What Credit Union Membership Means."

Door prizes were won by James Standing, George Snyder, Mrs. Harlan Meunier, Mrs. Wesley Hanson, Elaine Jensen, Mrs. Leland Stratton, Kay DeShambo, Eva Reubens, Mary Jo Larson, Helen Mineau, Caroline Holt, Mrs. Carl Westberg, Irene Waeghe, Harold Ogren and Matt Gasperich.

Entertainment was provided by "The Whistlers," composed of Don Scott, Charles Peltier, Bob McDonough, Dennis Snyder, and Byron Zanella.

Dancing followed the dinner and the business meeting.

At the reorganization meeting Monday, Charles Borden was reelected president; Chester Schram, vice president; Joyce A. Borman, treasurer, and Lorraine Barak, secretary.

The credit union's assets grew to $1,098,589 by the end of 1968; an increase of nearly $146,000 over 1967.

Grazing Fees

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs today urged the Nixon Administration to increase grazing fees on public land, citing unfair competition and the loss of millions of dollars in revenue.

"An exhaustive study recently completed shows that ranchers were paying three to four times as much rental for comparable private land as the government is charging," stated James L. Rouman, executive director of the MUCC.

Local Debaters Rate In Top 6

Mary Beth Waters and Faral Gola of the Manistique High School Varsity Debating Squad were among the top six debaters in Class B who received medals for their outstanding debating ability during an Honors Banquet in Escanaba on Saturday. The banquet followed the U.P. Regional Championship Debating Tournament held on Friday and Saturday.

Selections were based on scores in the preliminary debate tournaments from among 80 debaters in the Class B category.

MHS Debate Coach Marvin Frederickson commented that "it is no small honor to be ranked in the top six and we of Manistique High School are very proud of their accomplishments."

Manistique and Newberry were the only two high schools in Class B who won plaques for winning 75 per cent of their debates during the 1968-69 school year. Donated by the Detroit Free Press, the plaque will be presented to the school during a debate awards assembly.

Other debaters who assisted in compiling the varsity record of nine victories and three losses were Marcia Hubble, Jim Frederickson, Patti Johnson, Laurie MacGregor and Cindy Orlich.

In the weekend debating finals in Escanaba, Manistique was eliminated in the third round on a split decision. Ironwood won the Class B championship with Newberry as runner-up.

Miss Waters is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Duane L. Waters and Miss Gola the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gola.

Scouts Join In Feeding Deer

Several Boy Scouts from Troop 402 took part in a deer feeding project north of Manistique, along the Manistique River, last Saturday.

The Scouts, under the guidance of Ray Salo, game biologist for the Department of Natural Resources, aided in the project by cutting 'browse' for several hungry deer which are yarded in that area.

The boys had a good time chopping, according to reports, and hoped the deer had a good time "munching" on the fruits of their labor.

Troop 402 plans another project of this nature as long as the need exists. As one boy explained, "Where else could you chop down so many trees and, at the same time, participate in a worthwhile project?"

The issue of center operations came after the board has been in session for almost two hours and after numerous annual reports were presented by county department heads. Several members of the audience were loudly applauded when they spoke in favor of continued center operation.

The City Council next Monday night to request increased financial aid.

The city currently is contributing about $430 by furnishing utilities for the center. The county has contributed an outright $500 appropriation for operations.

More Money Needed
Even with the sponsorship issue resolved and taken support implied from the county, the center must secure additional financing to guarantee its third year of operation beginning April 1. Marsh will address ties of the new board and suggested that other groups were available for sponsorship. These were the main reasons cited in the earlier "unofficial" position dealing support.

Marsh previously has asked sponsorship from the City of Manistique and the Manistique Area public schools, but both units refused.

$7,000 Expected
Sponsorship responsibility means only that the county will be the official recipient of federal grant money from the Commission on Aging and will pay the center's expenses from the grant, according to an explanation by Center Director Richard Marsh.

The expected grant for 1969-70 should total $7,700, Marsh said.

The center is currently is sponsored by the Community Action Agency, a federally-financed agency, which declined sponsorship for the coming third-year operation.

The $2,000 budget recommendation will apply for the calendar year, 1970, when the center begins its fourth year of operation.

About 50 area senior citizens from the area attended the meeting Tuesday night to hear the board reverse an apparent "unofficial agreement" among themselves not to accept sponsorship of the center.

Petition Presented
A petition with 130 signatures was presented requesting that the center be kept active. Marsh explained that unless sponsorship and an indication of local support was obtained, it was doubtful that the center would remain open beyond April 1, 1969.

Need 292 Units:

Red Cross Calling For Blood Donors

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will arrive in Delta County on Feb. 25 for its first visit of 1969. It is announced by the Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The schedule: Gladstone—James T. Jones School, Tuesday, Feb. 25, from 3 to 7 o'clock.

Escanaba—Teamsters Building, Wednesday, Feb. 26, 2:30 to 7:30; and on Thursday, Feb. 27, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

At the last visit of the bloodmobile to Delta County, Gladstone exceeded its quota of 62 units by 5 units, and Escanaba on its first day quota of 115 units went over by 11 units. But the third day dropped to approximately one-half of the needed amount for the day in the midst of a sudden snowstorm.

Fifty-nine donors offered their blood in December in replacement for Steven Micheau, Escanaba, who was severely burned in an industrial accident. Approximately 100 units of whole blood and blood derivatives were administered to the young man who was treated in the Burn Center of St. Mary's Hospital, Milwaukee.

The Red Cross announced that persons who may still wish to replace blood may do so at the upcoming visit of the bloodmobile.

Daily quotas for the Bloodmobile this month are 62 at Gladstone, and 115 and 115 for the two days at Escanaba. Appointments may be made through service clubs and employers as well as at the Red Cross office.

The encouragement of the donor campaign is one of the public service projects of the young people of the First Presbyterian and the First Methodist Churches. A group of junior high age young people will on Feb. 20 ring doorbells in Escanaba, asking people to become donors.

Sponsors of this group are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nelson and Mrs. Marlin Roberts. A film informing the young people of the life-saving uses of blood has been seen by them in preparation for their calls on prospective donors.

Marines Offer 120-Day Delay Enlistment Plan

Volunteer enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps is now open to persons who have received notice to report for induction.

Such persons may now elect to enlist in the Marine Corps and delay their reporting date for active duty for up to 120 days after scheduled date of induction. In the past, the Marine Corps has accepted volunteers who had received their draft notice, but could not offer the "120-Day Delay Program."

Information concerning the new Marine Corps enlistment program may be obtained from the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-Station at Room 206 at the Post Office in Escanaba or by calling 863-6115 collect in Menominee, Mich.

MHS Debate Coach Marvin Fredericksen commented that "it is no small honor to be ranked in the top six and we of Manistique High School are very proud of their accomplishments."

Manistique and Newberry were the only two high schools in Class B who won plaques for winning 75 per cent of their debates during the 1968-69 school year. Donated by the Detroit Free Press, the plaque will be presented to the school during a debate awards assembly.

Other debaters who assisted in compiling the varsity record of nine victories and three losses were Marcia Hubble, Jim Fredericksen, Patti Johnson, Laurie MacGregor and Cindy Orlich.

In the weekend debating finals in Escanaba, Manistique was eliminated in the third round on a split decision. Ironwood won the Class B championship with Newberry as runner-up.

Scouts Join In Feeding Deer

Several Boy Scouts from Troop 402 took part in a deer feeding project north of Manistique, along the Manistique River, last Saturday.

The Scouts, under the guidance of Ray Salo, game biologist for the Department of Natural Resources, aided in the project by cutting 'browse' for several hungry deer which are yarded in that area.

The boys had a good time chopping, according to reports, and hoped the deer had a good time "munching" on the fruits of their labor.

Troop 402 plans another project of this nature as long as the need exists. As one boy explained, "Where else could you chop down so many trees and, at the same time, participate in a worthwhile project?"

Big Bay PTO Meets Thursday

City Briefs

Mrs. Mina Muthaupt of Flint and Mrs. Carl Gildner of West Branch are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Muthaupt and family, 520 Michigan Ave. Mrs. Muthaupt is the mother of Mr. Muthaupt and Mrs. Gildner is his sister, the former Jeanette Muthaupt of Manistique.

Supervisors To Sponsor Senior Citizens Center

The Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors will sponsor the Senior Citizens service for the coming year and also will recommend that a $2,000 appropriation for the center's operation be included in the 1970 county budget.

It was a major hurdle for the victorious service center, which must have local sponsorship during its third year of operation and must also indicate local financial support for its fourth year of operation.

The two requirements must be met before funding will be approved for third year operation — April 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970. Federal funding is appropriated under Title III, Older Americans Act of 1965, and administered through the Michigan Commission on Aging.

The center is currently sponsored by the Community Action Agency, a federally-financed agency, which declined sponsorship for the coming third-year operation.

$7,000 Expected
Sponsorship responsibility means only that the county will be the official recipient of federal grant money from the Commission on Aging and will pay the center's expenses from the grant, according to an explanation by Center Director Richard Marsh.

The expected grant for 1969-70 should total $7,700, Marsh said.

The center is classed as a "three year demonstration project" with federal funding decreasing each year. By the third year of operation the local community must "demonstrate its interest in the project through local sponsorship and indicate an amount of financial help for fourth year operations.

The $2,000 budget recommendation will apply for the calendar year, 1970, when the center begins its fourth year of operation.

About 50 area senior citizens from the area attended the meeting Tuesday night to hear the board reverse an apparent "unofficial agreement" among themselves not to accept sponsorship of the center.

Petition Presented
A petition with 130 signatures was presented requesting that the center be kept active. Marsh explained that unless sponsorship and an indication of local support was obtained, it was doubtful that the center would remain open beyond April 1, 1969.

Lindsay Frenette, board chairman, mentioned the numerous responsibilities and duties of the center.

Briefly Told
State Police cited Charles M. Krieg, Marquette for speeding no proof of insurance and no proof of registration. The citations were issued on Monday.

Girl Scouts Guests Of Sault, Ont. Troop

Two Manistique Girl Scout Troops will be spending the weekend in Sault Ste. Marie Ont. as guests of their Canadian counterparts.

Senior Girl Scout Troop One and Cadet Troop Twenty-eight will leave Friday afternoon to take part in a "Sinking Day Birthday Party" in honor of the late Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, British founders of world-wide scouting.

The Manistique Troops will represent American Girl Scouting at the celebration and will present the Colors during the ceremonies. This will be the first international event in which Manistique Scouts have participated.

Hootenanny
The Cadets will be housed with girls from the 19th Girl Guide Company of the Canadian Soo while the Seniors will be guests of the Girl Sea Rangers Ship Santa Marie group.

On Saturday the Senior Troop, composed of high school girls, will attend a "Hootenanny" and sleigh ride as guests of the Sea Rangers and the Sea and Land Rovers, a boy's troop comparable to our Explorer Scouts. The Cadets, junior high girls, will attend a Camp Fire and Stadium Party.

Sunday afternoon both local Troops will attend the "Sinking Day Birthday Party," returning to Manistique at the conclusion of the festivities.

Senior Girl Scouts making the trip include Juli Gerber, Becky Lambert, Pat Boanic, Gloria Tiglas, Bonnie Hentschell and Patti Johnson.

Leaders
Cadets include Debbie Nelson, Janet Peterson, Kathy Selling, Debbie Muthaupt, Lynn Coyle, Lorie Neddow, Ruth Malette, Karen Johnson, Wendy Wallace, Kim Jackson, Claire Messier, Barbara Hentschell, Marcia Jety and Noreen Weber.

Mrs. Jerome Peterson and Mrs. Francis Selling, leaders of the Cadet Troop, Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. Ben Muthaupt will accompany the Scouts to Canada.

Mrs. Francis Malette, president of the Manistique Girl Scout Council, serves as advisor to the Troops.

FOB Detroit

By Jerry Green

DETROIT — Detroit will have a new ballpark in our time. You can store that with other fearless predictions — such as the White Sox to win the pennant last year and the Colts to win the Super Bowl.

The other day Mayor Cavanagh unveiled the model for his proposed stadium on the riverfront. It has a dome, is well located and oops — there's that mistake again.

Cavanagh's lovely dream stadium is circular. That's okay outside. But the boundary to the playing field is circular, too, and that's just the goof they made in the new park in Atlanta. It means binoculars are required. Otherwise the games will look like ballets of little folks. Both the baseball and football fields are just too far away from the grandstands in Atlanta.

The mayor ought to rearrange the contours to bring the stadium closer to the athletes before he starts seeking the 50 million bucks to build the place.

That's the peachy thing about the park everybody wants to place. The customer can see the eyes of the performers at Tiger Stadium — if he's not behind a post. The athletes are easy enough to the customers to hear the boos.

It's an ideal setup at Tiger Stadium — except for the occasional falling chunk of concrete from the right field stands.

Of course, Cavanagh's park does have a certain advantage. Joe Schmidt would be out of snowball range.

Aah friend reader, now you say you have me? Snow in a stadium?

Well, what do you think those people are carrying in those sleds they take to the game with them?

In the new stadium they can bring their own snowballs, frozen at home. Indeed they can even bring them to the early season warm weather games.

Year-round snowballs in the year-round stadium. That's progress. But they'll never reach target unless Cavanagh changes the range from the grandstands.

Wonder how the acoustics will be under the dome for the readers — "Goodbye Joe, Goodbye Joe — We hope to see you go . . ."

The field, of course, will have AstroTurf or some other substitute for grass. That, of course, means when the fans storm to the field after the Tigers win the 1976 pennant they won't be able to cut up sod. They'll just have to unzipper the field in matted yard stripes for their souvenirs.

There'll be one of those new fangled animated scoreboards and it can be used to advise the fans of statements from Denny McLain. And if the Lions are still so dull, maybe some scenes from Paper Lion could be programmed into the scoreboard.

So, there is all sorts of potential for a stadium in Detroit.

One problem first is how John Fetzer will dispose of Tiger Stadium. Does anybody care to own a slightly outmoded stadium with good vantage points for the spectators?

After all, there were buyers not too long ago for the Queen Elizabeth.

The Tigers, it is said, will not move to a new stadium until a purchaser is located for the old ballpark and the land upon which it is falling apart.

The city already is restive about the proposed new stadium. Comments after Cavanagh displayed his model and announced plans a queue formed on the riverfront.

Opening day tickets?

"No," said a small boy with food in a brown bag, "I'm here to be the first one to carve my initials on a seat."

I hope the mayor changes the contours to help me see better.

Illinois Frosh Coach To Speak In Escanaba

Brodie Westen, freshman coach at the University of Illinois, will spend a busy weekend in Escanaba March 28 and 29.

Westen is scheduled to be the adroit speaker at the sixth annual Escanaba Football Clinic Friday night, March 28, and Saturday, March 29, Saturday night. Westen will be the featured speaker at the Eskymo Club All Sports Banquet honoring all Eskymo athletes and cheerleaders, grades 9 through 12, at 6:30 in the school commons.

Other speakers for the football clinic include Bill Odykirk of Central Michigan University and high school coaches, Wayne Melchior of Ironwood and Art Lae of Two Rivers, Wis.

Brodie Westen

Westen is a native of Marquette and a graduate of Northern Michigan University. He was head coach at Rockford West High School for five years, is teams winning 30 games while losing but 12 and tying three. His 1964 and 1965 teams won Big Eight titles and the 1964 club was undefeated. Westen's assistant coach was former Escanaba High School and Northern Michigan great Tom Schwalbach, the present Rockford West head coach.

Westen returned to Illinois last year, after his high school coaching experience. He previously was a member of the Illinois staff from 1958 to 1961 before his tenure at Rockford.

Westen was responsible for recruiting Jerry Cole of Escanaba's 1967 championship football squad to Illinois and another former Eskymo star, Steve Oman, is a regular Illinois offensive guard. A highlight of Westen's clinic talk will be movies of Illinois' near upset of Ohio State last fall in which Oman's spirited play sparked the Illinois second half rally.

Person wishing to attend the clinic as a full-time or part-time participant may do so by registering March 28 at the Terrace. Further information is available from football coaches at Holy Name or Escanaba High Schools.

Champion Nips Little Giants

ROCK — Champion rallied in the third quarter to take a five-point lead into the fourth quarter of last night's game with the Rock Little Giants and managed to hold on to notch a 9-6 victory.

Sophomore Tim Connors of Rock did an excellent job of defense on one of the leading scorers in the U.P., Larry Lalajala, holding him to just 12 points and only two field goals.

Tom Lippens of Rock topped all scorers in the game with 26 points on 11 field goals and four free throws while Rod Kijack and Larry Koski also hit double figures for the Little Giants with 14 and 12 points respectively. Tom Lappi paced the Champion attack with 17 points.

Champion won the preliminary game, 61-54.

Purdue Takes Giant Step Towards Achieving Goals

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue's title-starved Boilermakers, seeking their first Big Ten championship in 29 years and their first trip to the NCAA championship, took a giant step closer to their goals Tuesday night.

The Boilermakers clipped arch-rival Indiana 96-95 and then defeated Ohio State to take a two-game lead over Ohio State in the conference race with only five games to play.

Not since the 1939-40 season when the Big Ten opened up its modern era has Purdue won a conference championship and the Boilermakers, along with Minnesota and Northwestern, have never represented the conference in the NCAA championships.

But Purdue, led by Rick Mount and Herman Gilliam, is now in the driver's seat and should win both the title and the right to represent the Big Ten in the NCAA.

Mount, the league's leading scorer, poured in 32 points and Gilliam added 21 to give the Boilermakers their narrow victory over Indiana.

Purdue moved to a 53-38 half-time lead over the Hoosiers but fell victim to the rivalry and finally needed a pair of free throws by Gilliam with seven seconds to play to clinch the verdict.

Ken Johnson with 29 points, Bill DeHeer with 21 and Joe Cooke with 20 kept Indiana in the running.

Illinois, having its difficulties on the road, roared back and all but eliminated Ohio State from the conference race. The Illini took a 32-29 halftime lead and then went ahead 43-33 early in the second half to put the issue beyond doubt.

Dave Sorenson led Ohio State with 25 points but Mike Price had 20 for Illinois and Dave Scholz added 18.

In the only other conference game played Tuesday night, Michigan State continued its comeback with a 78-60 triumph over faltering Iowa.

Lee Lafayette paced Michigan State with 22 points as the Spartans recorded their fourth straight victory and third in conference play. Iowa's Glenn Vidovic led all scorers with 23 points but the Hawkeyes suffered their fifth loss in nine games.

Purdue is home against Northwestern Saturday and Ohio State returns home to take on Iowa. Michigan will be at Illinois, Indiana at Minnesota, and Michigan State at Wisconsin.

Perkins Quint Defeats Eben

EBEN—Perkins used control of the boards and key steals in the fourth quarter by Paul McNutt and Gary Aper Tuesday night as springboards to a 64-55 Central League basketball victory over Eben.

After Eben closed to within two points in the fourth quarter, McNutt and Aper scored after stealing the ball from Eben and the Yellowjackets broke away to seal the victory.

McNutt, who topped the winners with 21 points, combined with Joe Couillard to give Perkins a 58-36 edge in rebounds. Couillard had 18 carns, McNutt 17.

In the first half, Perkins lead by as much as 14 points before Eben, paced by Alex Freeberg, rallied to close the gap to six points at halftime. The teams traded 18 points in the third quarter. Freeberg topped all scorers with 25 points.

Eben won the junior varsity game, 60-47.

Trenary Tops Bronco Quint

BARK RIVER — The Trenary Comets remained in a first place tie with Perkins in the Central League by defeating the Bark River-Harris Broncos, 64-54, in a league contest played last night.

Bark River could still end up in a tie for first place in the Central League by winning their next two games if Trenary and Perkins each lost their remaining contest.

Leading scorer for Trenary in the game last night was Tim Harris with 22 points while teammates Greg Begovac and Don Sandstrom added 16 and 12 points respectively.

Trenary was 25 of 71 from the field while the Broncos made 20 of 73 field goal attempts. The Comets held a 52-40 edge in the rebounding department.

The Trenary Junior Varsity notched a 40-38 decision over the Bark River JV's in the preliminary game.

Olsen, Gauthier Ignite Fourth Period Outburst

By MIKE UTT

A 21-point outburst in the fourth quarter ignited by Bob Gauthier and Jim Olsen sparked the Escanaba Eskymos to a 66-52 victory over the Holy Name Crusaders in a Great Northern Conference tilt played before a packed house at the Escanaba Area High School gymnasium last night.

The victory enabled the Eskymos to take sole possession of second place in the conference race in their quest to unseat the Menominee Maroons from the top spot in the standings. Escanaba has two games remaining in conference play and need victories in both of them to wrap up the title. This Friday night the Eskymos travel to West Iron County for the first of the all-important contests before going to Menominee for the final game of the season on Friday, Feb. 28.

Olsen got the Eskymos rolling in the final frame with three field goals before getting some help from Gauthier at the free throw line. Gauthier, the Eskymo court general, canned six of nine attempts from the gift stripe in the final frame besides playing outstanding defense.

Holy Name never did get going on offense although they played almost even with Escanaba for the first three periods. The Crusaders shot a miserable 26 per cent from the field, making only 18 of 70 attempts from the outside. Escanaba, on the other hand, connected on 22 of 49 field goals attempts in the game for 45 per cent.

The two teams traded baskets in the opening period before Escanaba jumped out in front, 14-10, on three charity tosses by Gauthier and another by Jack Johnson. Mike Beck, the Eskymo center, did a good job against Terry Dufour, Holy Name's leading scorer, in the period and held him scoreless.

Both teams seemed to shake off their nervousness in the second quarter as they each ripped the nets for 17 points apiece and the Eskymos still held their four-point margin at halftime.

Eskymos Bounce Back

Holy Name finally got back into the lead in the third quarter, 39-35, but not for long as John Moberg put the Eskymos back out in front 41-39 with a field goal before Johnson and Gauthier sent their team into the fourth and final quarter with a five-point lead with a pair of field goals.

With Olsen and Gauthier lighting the fire, the Eskymos jumped out to a 53-41 lead in the fourth quarter before Holy Name scored a field goal and the Crusaders never got closer than 11 points during the remainder of the period.

Moberg led all scorers in the Eskymo lineup with 16 points while Tom Kangas added 13. Johnson and Gauthier 11 and Olsen 10. Nine of Gauthier's 11 points came from the free throw line where the Eskymos connected on 22 of 33 tries for 66 per cent.

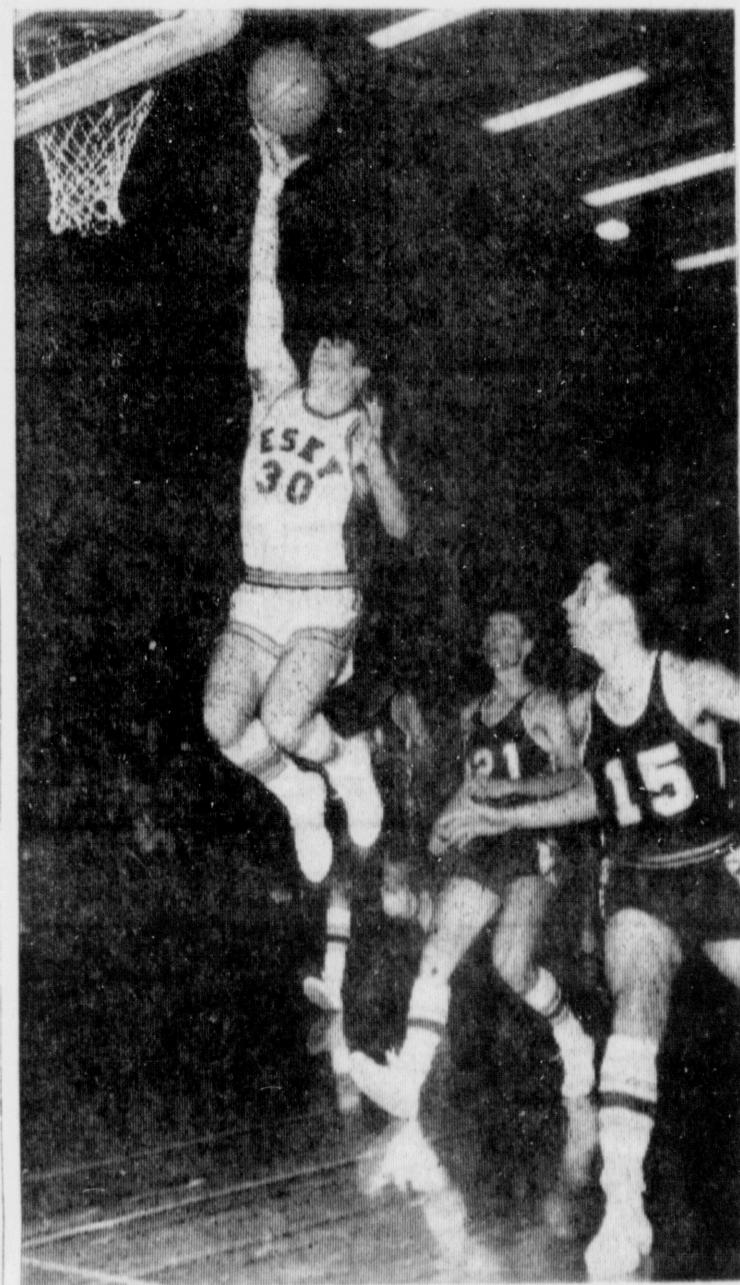

Dufour Hits 18

Dufour topped all scorers in the game with 18 points and Al Grabowski chipped in with 11. The Crusaders were 16 of 24 from the free throw line, also for 66 per cent.

Holy Name held a 48-36 edge in the rebounding department over the Eskymos with Steve Fisher leading the way with 15 and Dufour helped out with 13. Kangas, Escanaba's 6 foot 4 inch sophomore, was the leading rebounder in the game with 16.

The loss dropped the Crusaders to a 5-3 mark in the conference and into a third place tie with West Iron County. They close out their season at home against Menominee Friday night and Iron Mountain on Feb. 28.

The Escanaba Junior Varsity ran their Great Northern Conference lead to 7-1 with a 65-62 triumph over the Holy Name JV's in the preliminary game.

ESKYMOS HEROES — Bob Gauthier (20) of the Escanaba Eskymos is shown beating Dan Young (35) and Tom Creten (31) of the Holy Name Crusaders to the basket for this lay-up attempt while Jim Olsen (30) of the Eskymos watches in the top picture and Olsen (30), bottom, leaps high in front of the basket for two of his ten points. Olsen and Gauthier sparked a fourth quarter rally by the Eskymos that put them over the Crusaders, 66-52, in a Great Northern Conference clash played last night at the Escanaba Area High School gym. # Warriors Down Piston Cagers

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons played their usual frantic, catch-up basketball, couldn't hold back big Nate Thurmond and the San Francisco Warriors Tuesday night.

Thurmond scored 21 points in the third quarter and other Warriors added 22 more to break a 70-70 deadlock, downing Detroit 121-114.

Led by Dave Bing, who had 22 points himself, Detroit whittled the San Francisco lead to four points in the final period, but could not stop the Warriors from retaliating with nine straight of their own.

The victory put San Francisco solidly in third place in the National Basketball Association's western division, 2½ games ahead of San Diego.

In other action Tuesday, the Los Angeles Lakers downed New York 113 - 109, snapping the Knicks' 11-game winning streak. Philadelphia defeated San Diego 125-113, Boston topped Phoenix 116-110, and Seattle edged Chicago 114-113.

In the ABA, Oakland needed overtime to down Denver 118-116 and Indiana defeated Minnesota 140-133.

Wilt Chamberlain and Mel Counts, described by Lakers coach Butch van Breda Koff as "a couple of trucks coming up court," led the charge against the Knicks. Chamberlain had 31 points, Counts 23.

Philadelphia moved past New York into second place in the East as Hal Greer's 30 points and 22 by Wally Jones offset a 37-point spree by San Diego's Elvin Hayes.

The Rockets, behind by as many as 15 points in the first half, narrowed the gap to 100-97 with 7:15 left. But the 76ers ran off eight straight points to salt the game away.

Zelmo Beaty's short jump shot with six seconds left enabled Atlanta to squeak by Cincinnati. That gave the Hawks 6-foot-9 center game honors with 35 points, one more than teammate Lou Hudson. Cincinnati's

Westen is a native of Marquette and a graduate of Northern Michigan University. He was head coach at Rockford West High School for five years, his teams winning 30 games while losing but 12 and tying three. His 1964 and 1965 teams won Big Eight titles and the 1964 club was undefeated. Westen's assistant coach was former Escanaba High School and Northern Michigan great Tom Schwabach, the present Rockford West head coach.

Westen returned to Illinois last year, after his high school coaching experience. He previously was a member of the Illinois staff from 1958 to 1961 before his tenure at Rockford.

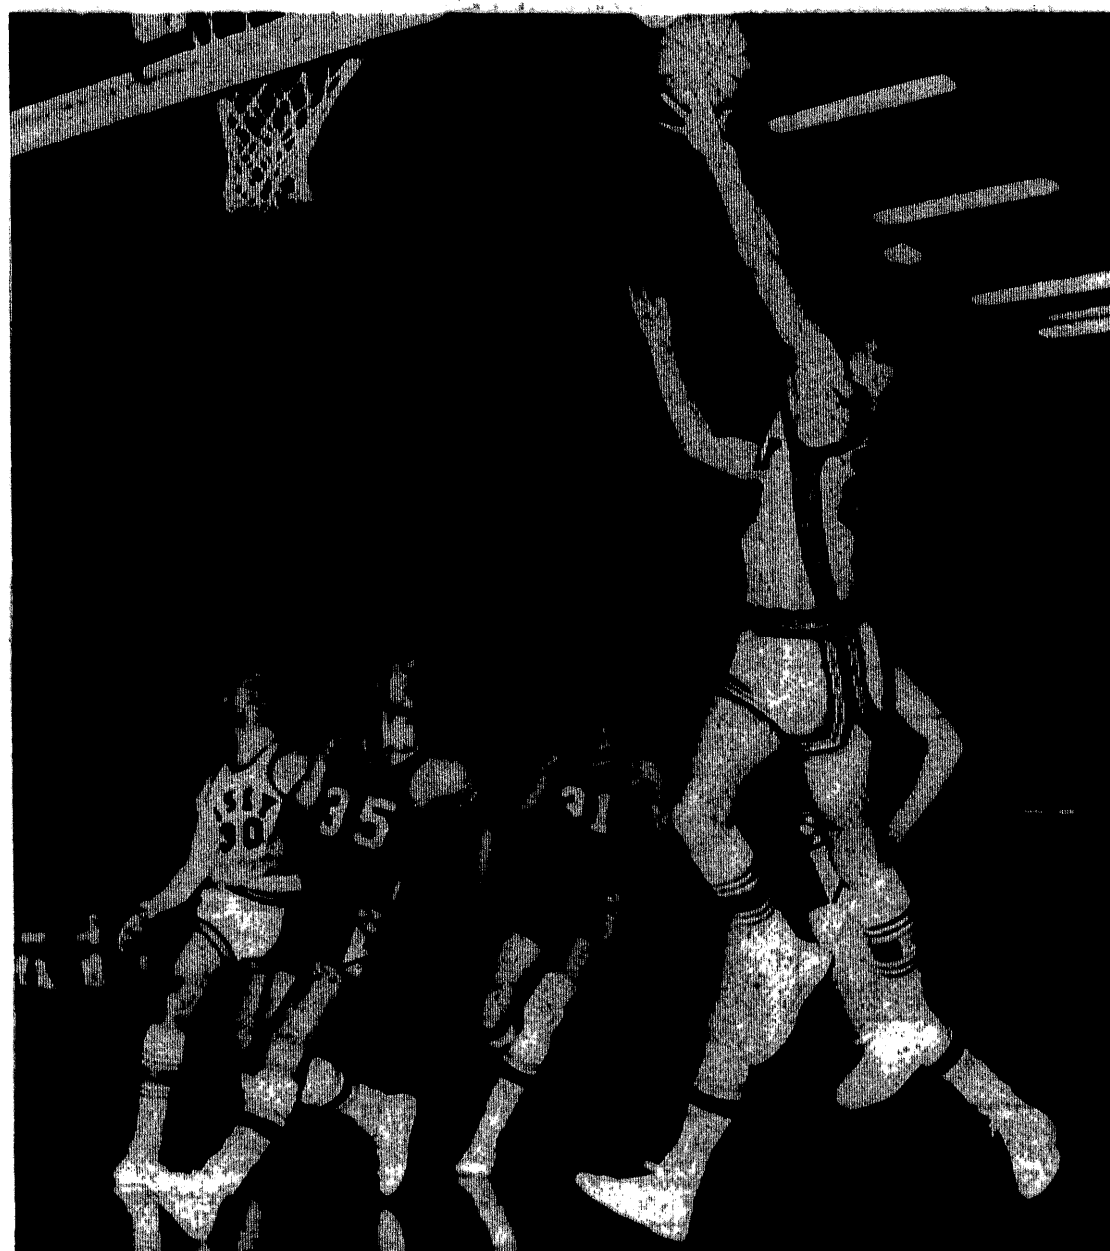

Westen was responsible for recruiting Jerry Cole of Escanaba's 1967 championship football squad to Illinois and another former Eskymo star, Steve Oman, is a regular Illinois offensive guard. A highlight of Westen's clinic talk will be movies of Illinois' near upset of Ohio State last fall in which Oman's spirited play sparked the Illinois second half rally.

Person wishing to attend the clinic as a full-time or part-time participant may do so by registering March 28 at the Terrace. Further information is available from football coaches at Holy Name or Escanaba High Schools.

Eskymos Trip Crusaders, 66-52

Olsen, Gauthier Ignite Fourth Period Outburst

By MIKE UTT

A 21-point outburst in the fourth quarter ignited by Bob Gauthier and Jim Olsen sparked the Escanaba Eskymos to a 66-52 victory over the Holy Name Crusaders in a Great Northern Conference tilt played before a packed house at the Escanaba Area High School gymnasium last night.

The victory enabled the Eskymos to take sole possession of second place in the conference race in their quest to unseat the Menominee Maroons from the top spot in the standings. Escanaba has two games remaining in conference play and need victories in both of them to wrap up the title. This Friday night the Eskymos traveled to West Iron County for the first of the all-important contests before going to Menominee for the final game of the season on Friday, Feb. 28.

Olsen got the Eskymos rolling in the final frame with three field goals before getting some help from Gauthier at the free throw line. Gauthier, the Eskymo court general, canned six of nine attempts from the gift stripe in the final frame besides playing outstanding defense.

Crusaders Stale

Holy Name never did get going on offense although they played almost even with Escanaba for the first three periods. The Crusaders shot a miserable 26 per cent from the field, making only 18 of 70 attempts from the outside. Escanaba, on the other hand, connected on 22 of 49 field goals attempts in the game for 45 per cent.

The two teams traded baskets in the opening period before Escanaba jumped out in front, 14-10, on three charity tosses by Gauthier and another by Jack Johnson. Mike Beck, the Eskymo center, did a good job against Terry Dufour, Holy Name's leading scorer, in the period and held him scoreless.

Both teams seemed to shake off their nervousness in the second quarter as they each ripped the nets for 17 points apiece and the Eskymos still held their four-point margin at halftime.

Eskymos Bounce Back

Holy Name finally got back into the lead in the third quarter, 39-35, but not for long as John Moberg put the Eskymos back out in front 41-39 with a field goal before Johnson and Gauthier sent their team into the fourth and final quarter with a five-point lead with a pair of field goals.

With Olsen and Gauthier lighting the fire, the Eskymos jumped out to a 53-41 lead in the fourth quarter before Holy Name scored a field goal and the Crusaders never got closer than 11 points during the remainder of the period.

Moberg led all scorers in the Eskymo lineup with 16 points while Tom Kangas added 13. Johnson and Gauthier 11 and Olsen 10. Nine of Gauthier's 11 points came from the free throw line where the Eskymos connected on 22 of 33 tries for 66 per cent.

Dufour Hits 16

Dufour topped all scorers in the game with 16 points and Al Grabowski chipped in with 11. The Crusaders were 16 of 24 from the free throw line, also for 66 per cent.

Holy Name held a 48-38 edge in the rebounding department over the Eskymos with Steve Fisher leading the way with 15 and Dufour helped out with 13. Kangas, Escanaba's 6 foot 4 inch sophomore, was the leading rebounder in the game with 16.

The loss dropped the Crusaders to a 5-3 mark in the conference and into a third place tie with West Iron County. They close out their season at home against Menominee Friday night and Iron Mountain on Feb. 28.

The Escanaba Junior Varsity ran their Great Northern Conference lead to 7-1 with a 65-62 triumph over the Holy Name JV's in the preliminary game.

Purdue Takes Giant Step Towards Achieving Goals

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue's title-starved Boilermakers, seeking their first Big Ten championship in 29 years and their first trip to the NCAA championship, took a giant step closer to their goals Tuesday night.

The Boilermakers clipped arch-rival Indiana 96-95 and then sweat out Illinois' 73-57 victory over Ohio State to take a two-game lead over Ohio State in the conference race with only five games to play.

Not since the 1939-40 season when the Big Ten opened up its modern era has Purdue won a conference championship and the Boilermakers, along with Minnesota and Northwestern, have never represented the conference in the NCAA championships.

But Purdue, led by Rick Mount and Herman Gilliam, is now in the driver's seat and should win both the title and the right to represent the Big Ten in the NCAA.

Mount, the league's leading scorer, poured in 32 points and Gilliam added 21 to give the Boilermakers their narrow victory over Indiana.

Purdue moved to a 53-38 half-time lead over the Hoosiers but fell victim to the rivalry and finally needed a pair of free throws by Gilliam with seven seconds to play to clinch the verdict.

Perkins Quint Defeats Eben

EBEN—Perkins used control of the boards and key steals in the fourth quarter by Paul McNutt and Gary Aper Tuesday night as springboards to a 64-55 Central League basketball victory over Eben.

After Eben closed to within two points in the fourth quarter, McNutt and Aper scored after stealing the ball from Eben and the Yellowjackets broke away to seal the victory.

McNutt, who topped the winners with 21 points, combined with Joe Couillard to give Perkins a 58-36 edge in rebounds. Couillard had 18 caroms, McNutt 17.

In the first half, Perkins led by as much as 14 points before Eben, paced by Alex Freeberg, rallied to close the gap to six points at halftime. The teams traded 18 points in the third quarter. Freeberg topped all scorers with 25 points. Eben won the junior varsity game, 60-47.

The Tigers made 15 fewer errors than any other team in the American League in 1968.

Ken Johnson with 29 points, Bill DeHeer with 21 and Joe Cooke with 20 kept Indiana in the running.

Illinois, having its difficulties on the road, roared back and all but eliminated Ohio State from the conference race. The Illini took a 32-29 halftime lead and then went ahead 43-33 early in the second half to put the issue beyond doubt.

Dave Sorenson led Ohio State with 25 points but Mike Price had 20 for Illinois and Dave Scholz added 18.

In the only other conference game played Tuesday night, Michigan State continued its comeback with a 78-60 triumph over faltering Iowa.

Lee Lafayette paced Michigan State with 22 points as the Spartans recorded their fourth straight victory and third in conference play. Iowa's Glenn Vidovic led all scorers with 23 points but the Hawkeyes suffered their fifth loss in nine games.

Purdue is home against Northwestern Saturday and Ohio State returns home to take on Iowa. Michigan will be at Illinois, Indiana at Minnesota, and Michigan State at Wisconsin.

Tigers Upend Carney, 69-54

POWERS — The Powers-Spalding Tigers grabbed a big lead in the first three periods of a Skyline Conference tilt with the Carney Wolves last night and held on in the fourth quarter to defeat the Wolves, 69-54, and extend their league-leading lead to 11-3.

Powers lead at halftime, 38-22, and by 21 points at the end of the third quarter, 58-37, before Carney rallied slightly in the final period but still not enough to cut the big Powers' lead.

Kim Riedy paced the Tiger-scoring attack with 22 points while Jim Charles and Dick Smith chipped in with 17 points apiece and Jack Fleetwood added 11. Dennis Lundquist led the Wolves with 20 points and Gerry Guard added 11 in the losing cause.

Powers shot 53 per cent from the field, canning 31 of 58 field goal attempts, while Carney was 19 of 52 from the outside for 36 per cent. Riedy's 17 rebounds also led Powers to a 35-28 edge on the boards.

Powers won the preliminary game, 59-38.

Warriors Down Piston Cagers

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons played their usual frantic, catch-up basketball, couldn't hold back big Nate Thurmond and the San Francisco Warriors Tuesday night.

Thurmond scored 21 points in the third quarter and other Warriors added 22 more to break a 70-70 deadlock, downing Detroit 121-114.

Led by Dave Bing, who had 22 points himself, Detroit whittled the San Francisco lead to four points in the final period, but could not stop the Warriors from retaliating with nine straight of their own.

The victory put San Francisco solidly in third place in the National Basketball Association's western division, 2½ games ahead of San Diego.

In other action Tuesday, the Los Angeles Lakers downed New York 113-109, snapping the Knicks' 11-game winning streak. Philadelphia defeated San Diego 125-113, Boston topped Phoenix 116-110, and Seattle edged Chicago 114-113.

In the ABA, Oakland needed overtime to down Denver 118-116 and Indiana defeated Minnesota 140-133.

Will Chamberlain and Mel Counts, described by Lakers coach Butch Van Breda Koff as "a couple of trucks coming up court," led the charge against the Knicks. Chamberlain had 31 points, Counts 23.

Philadelphia moved past New York into second place in the East as Hal Greer's 30 points and 22 by Wally Jones offset a 37-point spree by San Diego's Elvin Hayes.

The Rockets, behind by as many as 15 points in the first half, narrowed the gap to 100-97 with 7:15 left. But the 76ers ran off eight straight points to salt the game away.

Zelmo Beaty's short jump shot with six seconds left enabled Atlanta to squeak by Cincinnati. That gave the Hawks 6-foot-6 center game honors with 35 points, one more than teammate Lou Hudson. Cincinnati's

Oscar Robertson had 33.

Atlanta rallied from a 62-53 halftime deficit and the game was nip and tuck until Beatty's winning shot.

John Havlicek and Sam Jones keyed Boston to a 47-29 lead over Phoenix and Bailey Howell hit two quick buckets to pull the Celtics' out of danger after the Suns pulled within four points.

Havlicek finished with 20 points and Jones 19 but the Celtics' Gail Goodrich had 29.

REPUBLIC—Two free throws by John Dani after time had run out in the game gave the Hermansville Redskins a 59-57 triumph over Republic in a Sky-line Conference contest played last night as a makeup game for the originally scheduled Dec. 13 date.

With the score tied in the final stages of the quarter, Hermansville held the ball for the last shot and Dani was fouled when he took a shot at the buzzer. Then with the time gone, Republic stood by and watched their chance for a victory go down the drain as Dani sank both free throws.

Rick Arduin paced the Redskins in the scoring column with 17 points while Larry Raiche tossed in 16 and Dani and Marc Maga chipped in with 11 a piece. Pete Sevegnay led Republic with 19 points.

Hermansville won the preliminary game, 58-20.

Former Tiger GM Dies In Arizona

GLENDAL, Ariz. (AP) — John A. "Jack" Zeller, a veteran of more than 65 years in baseball, including seven years with the Detroit Tigers, died Monday of a heart ailment in Northwest Hospital here. He was 85.

Zeller was general manager of the Detroit Tigers from 1936-45. He joined the club as a scout in 1925 and helped organize the Tiger farm system in the 1930s.

Funeral services will be Thursday morning. Survivors include his widow, Effie, four daughters who live in Phoenix, and 10 grandchildren.

Cooperative Logging Being Proposed

Deer Herd Decline Continues

LANSING (AP) — Michigan deer hunters can expect the state's deer herd to continue declining until at least 1980 unless something is done to improve winter food conditions.

That is the opinion of John D. Byelich, Lansing, deer range management specialist for the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

A former regional game biologist at Roscommon, Byelich was given the job of mapping deer yards—the winter food baskets for deer—two years ago. Since then, he has discovered where most of Michigan's deer are killed and he has plotted 8,200 lineal miles of deer yard in the Lower Peninsula alone.

Range Improvement
He has come to about the same conclusion as has Dr. Howard A. Tanner, director of natural resources for Michigan State University.

Tanner told Michigan's organized bear hunters last month that the DNR must stop "tinkering" with deer management and "get excited about taking the money lid" off management.

Byelich is anxious to spend money for range improvement in order to create more winter deer food. The dwindling supply of winter food is the bottleneck that prevents the state's deer herd from expanding.

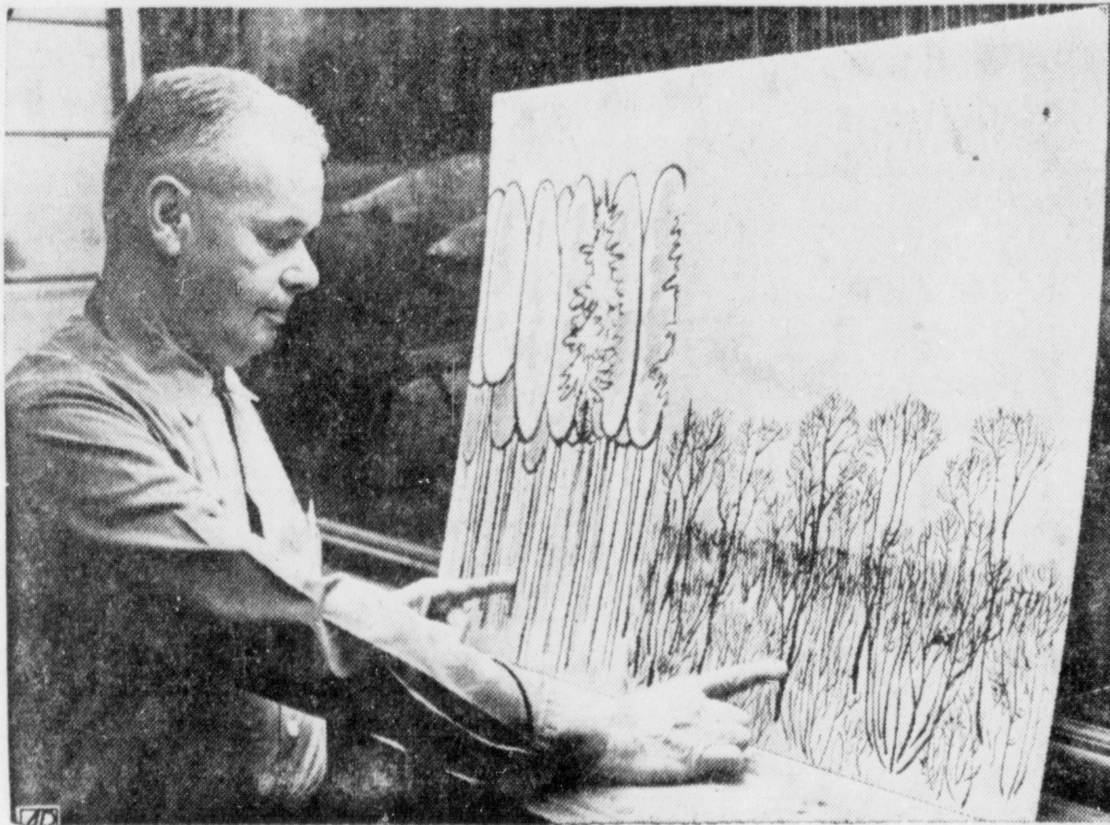

After winter snows piled high in the deer country, Dr. Ralph A. MacMullan, DNR director issued an appeal to sportsmen to help feed the herd. The herd faced critical times until late in January when a thaw and subsequent freeze bailed it out temporarily.

Corn Distributed
When it looked as though deer were trapped by deep snow in the deer yards the DNR declared an emergency and obtained 25,000 bushels of surplus corn from the federal government.

"But why operate by crisis," asked Byelich.

"If we got $1 million tomorrow," he declared, "it wouldn't help the deer this year."

But, given financing of sufficient magnitude over a long period of time, he said, he could improve conditions for deer. Range management, he explained, is a long-term project.

JOHN D. BYELICH, Lansing, deer range management specialist for the Department of Natural Resources, points out the difference on charts between trees and shrubs (right) that produce deer food and "pole-size" trees (left) that no longer produce deer food. The pole-size trees must either mature and die or must be cut before the land they occupy once again produces food for deer. (AP Photo)

"I know we can do a better job than we are doing now," he maintained. "We have the know-how—all we need is time and money."

Teamwork Urged
The DNR needs land to manage for deer, equipment and manpower, Byelich declared. He would like to see a team organized to manage the public deer range and to work with private land owners and with commercial loggers.

Such a team would steer pulp wood and timber cutting to proper areas, he said, and induce loggers to modify their practices to favor wildlife. This could be done, he added, without undue economic sacrifice.

Cutting At Yards
Commercial cutting is probably the best range management tool, Byelich said. But he also favors controlled burning and cutting noncommercial stock by hand and by tree-cutting bulldozers.

Byelich's plan is to cut trees on strips of land one-quarter mile wide along the borders of deer yards. His goal is to maintain 25 per cent of such strips in young, productive cover. Shrubs provide most of the food deer need.

This system would work best in the Lower Peninsula Byelich said. Most of the cutting for deer in the Upper Peninsula would have to be done within the deer yards.

He said food conditions in 74 per cent of the deer yards in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Michigan range from poor to medium.

In only 26 per cent of these winter breadbaskets are food conditions good.

U. P. Lands Mapped

Byelich has plotted deer yards on private and public land in 33 counties in the Lower Peninsula. Mapping in the U.P. has been confined to state lands.

In order to determine where to direct efforts at improving food conditions, Byelich plotted kills over a five year period. The DNR should "pour habitat money" where the deer are, he explained.

He found there are 361 townships in the deer country where hunters bag three or more deer per square mile. Of this, 290 are in Lower Michigan—the rest in the U.P.

Best U. P. Counties
The best U.P. counties are Menominee and Dickinson and parts of Iron, Marquette and Delta. Close behind is the extreme eastern U.P.

Biggest deer producers in the Lower Peninsula are Kalkaska, Missaukee, Roscommon, Oscoda, Ogemaw, Isosco, Crawford, Montmorency and Alcona counties and portions of Alpena, Presque Isle, Gladwin, Clare, Lake, Newaygo, Manistee and Midland counties.

These 361 townships produce 80 per cent of Michigan's annual deer kill, Byelich explained, and comprise 40 per cent of the land area. Of that land area, 40 per cent is in public ownership.

The public land is made up of 1.8 million acres of state-owned and a million acres of federal land.

Best Prospect
Byelich predicts that the area of the U. P. lying to the south appears best for deer hunting for years to come.

He ties that future to the great demand for pulp wood and timber from Wisconsin mills. It keeps loggers in that area busy doing the kind of cutting that benefits deer.

Wisconsin is using just about all of the timber that the Badger state produces, Byelich explained, while Michigan is exporting over half of its production. Much of this goes to Wisconsin.

It was logging that produced Michigan's great deer habitat back in the period between 1930 and 1945, Byelich explained. In response to the new habitat tremendous numbers of deer were produced between 1935 and 1945, he said.

Peak In 1945-50

The number of deer seen annually by conservation field workers peaked between 1945 and 1950, Byelich explained, and has been declining since.

It has been going down, he said, because the shrubs of the 1930s have become trees—and trees do not produce deer food.

A good example of what has happened is the Pere Marquette State Forest. Byelich said 88.7 per cent of the trees there have reached their peak as deer habitat and now are declining.

Only 11.3 per cent of the Pere Marquette forest land is producing good deer food.

Hunting Helps

Where logging is helping produce deer for U.P. hunters, hunters in the Lower Peninsula are bagging large numbers of deer despite worsening food conditions.

Byelich explained that hunting pressure, better weather and shorter-lived forests are factors in the deer kill in northern Lower Michigan.

Lower Peninsula hunters are harvesting bucks just about as fast as they become legal. Byelich indicated, taking proportionately more 1½-year-old deer

Canada's Paper Industry Shows Healthy Signs

TORONTO (AP) — After three years of sagging production and earnings, the Canadian pulp and paper industry is showing signs of regaining its health.

A recent economic survey estimates Canadian newsprint production this year at 8,400,000 tons, the highest since 1966 and about 86 per cent of capacity.

In 1968 mills operated at 83 per cent capacity, as the gap between increased facilities and world demand widened.

The trouble began in the middle 1960s when long-term forecasts indicated Canadian mills should increase their capacity substantially to meet the rapidly-expanding U.S. demand. The U.S. takes about 75 per cent of all Canadian newsprint and more than 10 per cent of all wood pulp production.

But the expected increase in demand, particularly in the United States, did not develop, partly because of widespread newspaper strikes and partly because of an even faster increase in U.S. production capacity.

There is three times as much hunting pressure below the Straits of Mackinac as above, he said.

The close cropping below the straits produces healthier deer, results in better deer production and saves food, Byelich explained.

Deer with the poorest future are those in the Lake Superior watershed, Byelich predicted. Hunting pressure is low and trees are long-lived and dense growing—producing little food and showing no early prospect of dying back. The weather there is severe and deer survival poor.

Byelich believes the DNR's first job is to keep the deer herd it now has in good shape, concentrating efforts where hunter harvest indicates good populations. Then he would like to expand efforts to other areas.

But it takes money—more money than the DNR now is spending on range management. Just $1 of each hunter's license money spent on deer habitat would be of "tremendous" help, Byelich said.

Sixth Graders Attend College

EAST LANSING (AP) — A group of Michigan State University students hopes to inspire 100 sixth graders to stay in school by taking them to college for a weekend.

The Lansing grade schoolers are to spend this weekend at MSU as guests of students in one of the residence halls.

Each suite or two rooms has adopted a child for the informal weekend.

"We hope to give them some reason to stay in school," explained Margery Crisp, a Detroit freshman who planned the activities. "Perhaps we can even encourage some to aspire to college."

The youngsters are to visit the MSU museum, listen to "soul music," play ping pong and hear a talk by Gene Washington, a former Spartan football great who now is assistant director of the Michigan State Placement Bureau.

"We want to stress the personal relationship between the students and their adopted friend," Miss Crisp said. "We hope the kids will continue to visit us and write letters," she added.
